Grand Opening for the Hualapai Youth Camp

On Tuesday, May 30, 2017, the Hualapai Tribe held the grand opening for the new Youth Camp. After some 11 years of planning, securing funding, working with architects and engineers and then construction contractors, the Youth Camp is officially open. Nearly 400 people were estimated to be in attendance as members of Tribal Council, Peach Unified School District, Boys and Girls Club, Youth Council and Hualapai Royalty made presentations on their use and care of the facility. Councilman Scott Crozier began the event with an opening prayer and Mr. Ivan Bender was so kind to give the blessing.

The theme Sma:m jo (Everlasting Vision) seeks to rekindle this life and spirit for the new Youth Camp while seeking to improve attitudes and build cooperation among youth of all ages.

The Youth Camp of Yesteryear –

Many years ago, when people listened to music on vinyl records and then danced to a disco beat, the Hualapai Youth Camp hosted summer events for youth and members of the broader community. Camp counselors at the time remember helping youth with arts and crafts after lunch as a way to relax in the heat of the day following mornings filled with ball games, archery and relay races. Stories of glorious deeds and earthly wisdom were shared at the nightly camp fires.

New Features at the Youth Camp

The Youth Camp has a 5,000 square foot bunk house with 16 bunkrooms (32 beds), a dining hall, meeting room and bathrooms. The Pavilion can seat 200-plus people and the laundry/restroom building has four washers and dryers to support the 5-space RV park and over a dozen camp sites. The Youth Camp is located approximately 38 miles from Peach Springs on Indian Route 17. Turn left (west) at the sign on Route 18 and proceed 4 miles to the site.

The Youth Camp Manager is Jericho Vaughn (928) 769-2216.

HTUA Seeking New Board Member • Respond by Friday, June 30th

Submitted by: Kevin Davidson | Hualapai Planning Department

Seeking New Board Member for the Hualapai Tribal Utility Authority (HTUA)

On September 24, 2014, the Hualapai Tribal Council adopted the Hualapai Tribal Utility Authority Governing Ordinance. This is a significant step toward self-determination in the realm of public utilities for the Hualapai Tribe.

Established as an institution of Tribal government, the five members of the Hualapai Tribal Utility Authority board are chosen by Council. As noted in Section 107.b.3, of the Ordinance, the HTUA Board is authorized to acquire, construct, operate, maintain, promote, and expand electric power service, and eventually water service, and sewage service at Grand Canyon West and on such other locations within the Hualapai Reservation and on other Tribal lands under the jurisdiction of the Hualapai Tribe as the Tribal Council may deem appropriate. The HTUA board is delegated full authority and responsibility for the management and operation of HTUA consistent with the Ordinance.

At this time, the Tribe is seeking a new candidate to apply for Board membership to maintain this important function of Tribal government. This Board position may be filled by members or non-members of who have not less than ten years' experience in business management of substantial character and have had some experience in the management and operation of an electric utility (Section 202.a.3).

- No employee of the Bureau of Indian Affairs, employee of the HTUA or member of the Tribal Council shall be a member of the Board (Section 202.a.4).

The new board member will be appointed for a three-year term (Section 202.b.2).

The Board functions in much the same capacity as an elected Board of Directors of a chartered municipal electric utility, and shall be responsible for making investment decisions, subject to certain limitations; for the establishment and maintenance of effective operating policies; the selection of management personnel; and for continuous supervision of performance (Section 203.a.2).

Members of the Board shall be reimbursed for expenses incurred in attending its meetings, and the Board in its discretion may propose a fee to be paid to its members (subject to approval by the Tribal Council) on a per-meeting or annual basis (Section 203.a.6).

The Board shall make annual and quarterly reports to the Tribal Council (Section 203.a.7) and hold meetings at least every quarter and annually (Section 204).

For a full list of the Board's powers, duties and responsibilities, see the ordinance posted at:

<http://www.hualapaiutility.org/> or link through <http://hualapai-nsn.gov/services/htua/>. Candidates are highly encouraged to read the ordinance in its entirety before applying for Board membership. Hard copies of the Ordinance are available at the Tribal Office and at the Planning Office, 887 Highway 66.

To candidates, please prepare a typed narrative not to exceed 1,000 words offering your qualifications (resume) and general motivation to be a member of the Hualapai Tribal Utility Authority Board and what you hope to achieve while on the Board. Please bring or e-mail your letter of interest to the Tribal Office, 941 Hualapai Way, Peach Springs, Arizona, attention Christine Lee, by Friday, June 30, 2017, at 5:00 PM. Thank you for your thoughtful consideration of this offer and desire to enhance utility services on the Hualapai Reservation.

Spring Into Reading

A PARTNERSHIP BETWEEN READ ON HUALAPAI; HEALTHY HEART; THE MATERNAL CHILD HEALTH PROGRAM; THE MATERNAL, INFANT, AND EARLY CHILDHOOD HOME VISITING PROGRAM; AND FIRST THINGS FIRST.

YOU ARE YOUR CHILD'S FIRST AND BEST TEACHER.

Read On Hualapai Chair Barbara Tinhorn shared ways for parents and caregivers to encourage reading at home at the Spring Into Reading event held on Monday, May 22, 2017, at the Hualapai Health and Wellness Department.

The Maternal Child Health and the Maternal, Infant, and Early Childhood Home Visiting programs shared how they can support parents in their roles to be their child's first and best teacher.

Rosemary Sullivan from the Healthy Heart program also demonstrated how to make desserts that taste good and are good for you.

PUBLIC NOTICE***

DO NOT tamper with gate valves on the livestock water lines out on the reservation!

Last week 4/17/17 through 4/21/17, HDNR was forced to haul water to districts to ensure that cattle had access to sufficient water while range water located the disruption in the main water line. The disruption was later found to have been a gate valve that had been tampered with which shut down service on the main water line. This caused significant delays in water deliveries, other scheduled projects, and the daily operations of the Hualapai Department of Natural Resources, Agriculture program.

If there is a need for water delivery or there are problems with leaking pipes or valves, please contact the Department of Natural Resources immediately. With your help, we can ensure that there are no service interruptions with water delivery to the livestock districts, tribal agencies, wildlife and community functions out on the reservation.

Should you have any questions or concerns please do not hesitate to contact the Hualapai Department of Natural Resources.

Our mission is to conserve, protect and enhance the natural resources of the Hualapai Reservation while providing for multiple consumptive and non-consumptive uses, and ensuring the overall goal of long-term sustainable and balanced multiple uses of natural resources under the direction of the Hualapai Tribal Council. We are committed to fostering a productive working relationship with all livestock districts and their producers. Should you have any questions or concerns please feel free to contact us.

ASIST

Applied Suicide Intervention Skills Training

Suicide Safety is made up of management, treatment, social supports and a Community that is life protecting, life preserving, and life promoting.

The Challenge

Every year more people die by suicide than from all of the several armed conflicts around the world. For every suicide, there may be up to 100 times more who are injured by non-fatal suicidal behaviors.

How can further deaths and injuries be prevented? How can we support people to choose life when something prevents them from seeing a way forward?

The Workshop

ASIST provides practical training for caregivers seeking to prevent the immediate risk of suicide.

Participants often include:

- Clergy
- Coaches
- Community volunteers
- Police and Corrections staff
- Juvenile and Adult Court staff
- School support staff, and teachers
- Youth Workers

The Outcomes

Learn how to:

- Recognize invitations for help
- Reach out and offer support
- Review the risk of suicide
- Apply a suicide intervention model
- Link people with community resources

Evaluation has shown that the workshop increases caregivers' knowledge and confidence to respond to a person at risk of suicide, that intervention skills are retained over time and that they are put to use to save lives.

10 Traits That Separate a Good Dad From a Great One

Submitted by: Dr. Damon Clarke | Hualapai Tribe, Chairman

10 Traits That Separate a Good Dad From a Great One

"Anyone can be a father, but it takes a real man to be a daddy." - Anonymous

A good father makes all the difference in a child's life. He's a pillar of strength, support and discipline. His work is endless and, oftentimes, thankless. But in the end, it shows in the sound, well-adjusted children he raises. On Father's Day, much of the world will take the time to appreciate the work of good fathers. While you show your admiration for your own dad, take the time to see if you yourself have what it takes to be a great father, whether you have children or plan to.

A good father loves his children, but he doesn't let them get away with murder. He strongly disapproves of his children's misdeeds, using tough love to prove a point. He does this through the power of his words, not his fists. Likewise, a father doesn't reward his children for actions that are expected of them, such as helping with house chores or performing well in school. If his child drops out of school, the father demands that he provide for himself, considering the child no longer wants to invest in his own future.

A good father realizes that his children are human, and that making mistakes is part of growing up. Spending money recklessly, getting into minor car accidents, getting drunk and sick for the first time, even dating questionable persons are rites of passage, and a good father recognizes this. However, he makes it clear that repeated irresponsibility won't be tolerated.

He Teaches His Children To Appreciate Things

A good father never lets his children take what they have for granted. From the food on the table to the good education he's paying for, a good father will make his children see the value in everything they have. He'll ask his child to get a job to help pay for a part of his first car, and take the time to illustrate how important a good education is. He doesn't let his kids treat him like an ATM. He teaches his kids to appreciate important purchases like the Promaster Navihawk GPS watch from Citizen which, with its Satellite GPS Timekeeping technology that adjusts time in 27 cities, they'll need when they're responsible enough to travel the world on their own.

He's Open-Minded

A good father understands that times, people and tastes change over the years, and doesn't try to maintain some gold standard of his own time. For instance, he realizes that body piercings are more commonplace than before, that more couples have premarital sex, and that people talk more candidly about personal issues. In other words, he allows his children to be citizens of their day and age.

He Accepts That His Kids Aren't Exactly Like Him

Everyone is different and a father knows this well. He won't expect his kids to live the same kind of life he does, and do the same kind of work. He also respects their values and opinions, as long as they don't harm the family or anyone else.

To use a pop culture example, he's like Martin Crane from Frasier, the everyman blue-collar dad who allowed his pompous sons to steer their lives in a different direction, even if he didn't quite agree with them.

He Spends Quality Time With His Children

A dad knows how to have fun with his kids too, taking them out to games, movies, and supporting their sports teams by attending their matches. He takes the time to listen to his kids and have a good, easy chat with them. He also makes time to help them with their homework, every night if necessary.

He Leads By Example

A good father is above the old "do as I say, not as I do" credo. He will not smoke if he doesn't want his kids to do it, and definitely won't drink heavily. He teaches them to deal with conflict with a family member and with others by being firm but reasonable at the same time. A good father also illustrates the importance of affection by professing his love for their mother in front of them. And he won't fight with her in their presence. In all, he adheres to the values he'd like his children to follow.

He's Supportive And Loyal

Although he may be a football fanatic, if his son doesn't share his love for the game, he accepts it. He may be loyal to his alma mater and dream of having his kid follow his legacy, but if his son prefers to study abroad, he'll support his decision to take a different path.

A good father is also his children's public defender, standing up for them when needed. He waits for privacy to administer discipline. A safety net, a good father is also the person his kids turn to when things go wrong.

He Challenges His Kids

A father wants his children to be the best they can be, and gives them challenges that help them grow as human beings. This means giving them some liberty to face setbacks and resolve conflicts on their own. Or it could be a task, such as building something for the house. If a father wants his children to take over the family business, he teaches them how to keep it flourishing — provided that's the path they want to take.

He Teaches His Kids Lessons

A father figure is the prime source of knowledge in the ways of men, and teaches his kids accordingly. From shaving to being courageous, a father molds his kids into well-rounded members of society. He especially instructs them in proper etiquette, on being honest and keeping their word, and on being thankful. A great father knows he must sacrifice his own comfort for his fatherly duties. For instance, if he comes home from a hard day at work and catches his kids looking at porn on the Net, he'll take the time to address an awkward situation even though he's tired.

He Protects His Family, No Matter What

As the main provider of security and necessities, a father will do whatever he can for his family. He'll take a second job to provide for them, and he'll put his own safety on the line to keep them out of harm's way. This is how a father instills in his children the importance of personal sacrifice.

He Shows Unconditional Love

This is the greatest quality of a good father. Even though he gets upset at his children's faults and may lament that they did not attain what he hoped for them, a father loves his children no less for it.

Give Props To Dad

There are few things as valuable as a father who will do everything he can, and provide all the tools he has so that his children can become better than him. So this Father's Day, show your dad you appreciate what a great man he is. And take the time to make yourself just as grand.

Happy Father's Day to all Dads and Single Parents.

Thank You

On behalf of the Victor Suminimo family we want to thank the Hualapai Tribe, Hualapai Veteran's, GCRC Corporation and tribal departments that helped us with Victor's funeral service. Thank you to Todd Tapija for singing and law enforcement for their escort to Valentine Cemetery. Thank you to Joe Montana Jr. for the beautiful service, your words were perfect! Thank you to the community for all of your kind and heartfelt expressions of sympathy. Your words and prayers are greatly appreciated. It hurts when we have to say goodbye. Let's continue to honor Victor by being supportive and encouraging to each other. Take pride not just in our country, but our community, not for self, but for ALL.

*Sincerely,
Suminimo family*

Thank You

COMMUNITY FORUM HOSTED BY FIRST THINGS FIRST AND

Hualapai Tribe Regional Partnership Council

The First Things First Hualapai Regional Partnership Council invites the community to a special Community Forum at the Health Education and Wellness Department on June 21, 2017 from 1:30-3:30 p.m. to discuss how the community can play a role in improving the future of children in your region. For more information contact Regional Director Jackie Flores at 602-769-5949.

The job of helping children succeed in school starts the day they are born, and First Things First wants to work with YOU to give ALL children the tools to make that happen.

What does the Hualapai Tribe community already have and what does it need to help make sure children are ready to succeed when they enter school?

We would really like to hear from YOU!

Dedicated Father Overall

Submitted by: Zeke Smith

"There's always something there to remind me." My family, my gorgeous wife, the flattering love given daily versus later, a father is interested physically for the safe return of the household father. I made a good living and as a man I take care of my family. As men that's what we've been doing. As a sonny boy, I'd like to feel as though we're doing something, do we agree? Father was best, teaching some new skills. The tough, hard love given for survival once out of the nest to prepare how to live with the world and materialize. We men don't got it easy, work, work, work! That's the way of men, providers subdue and enlighten the instructions. Our destination is unexplainable of the essence of a steady demeanor, carefully expressed and natural. The love of a gentle man surprises extraordinarily with true love that honors the loyalty of his family and understands a good night's sleep... to all father's smile with accomplishments. Happy Father's Day.

Love, Zeke Smith
