Fallen soldier receives recognition: Effort to put faces to Vietnam memorial names leads to Mohave County tribal member

BY TERRI HARBER The Mohave Daily News Jun 25, 2017

Special points of interest:

- The Hualapai Tribal Administration Office/Tribal Departments will be closed July 3-4, 2017. Have a safe holiday weekend.
- Regular Council Meeting will be Saturday, July 8th, starting at 8:01 am in the Tribal Chambers.
- Community Independence Day will be on Monday, July 3rd (see page 3)

A soldier killed in action almost 50 years ago was remembered during a military reunion in Scottsdale earlier this month, an event that allowed many of his loved ones — members of the Hualapai and Havasupai tribes — the chance to witness him be honored for his service.

U.S. Army PFC Michael Bruce Jones's name is on the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Wall in Washington D.C. Jones, a member of B Company, 4th Battalion, 9th Infantry Regiment, 25th Infantry Division who had been in Vietnam for only a month, was 20 years old when he was struck and killed by enemy fire in 1968, the year of the Tet Offensive. He was on patrol in the part of South Vietnam known then as the Gia Dinh Province, which included Saigon, now Ho Chi Minh City, at the time of his death.

Jones is buried in Mountain View Cemetery in Kingman. The gravestone says he died in March but he actually died in May 1968. Members of the Hualapai Tribe didn't know very much about the circumstances surrounding his death, said Michael Whatoname, a member who is involved with tribal veterans affairs.

"We were always curious about how he passed away," he said. Whatoname said that without having Jones' Social Security number, tribal members couldn't obtain information from the Army about his service. Jones will be more permanently memorialized in Hualapai tribal chambers: A plaque presented by reunion organizers during the ceremony will be paired with an enlarged photograph of Jones to form a display.

The Hualapai will also devote Veterans Day activities to Jones, Whatoname said. Sharon Johnston was able to find not only photographs of Jones but also some of his relatives, including his sister, Bernadine. The Phoenix elementary school teacher is participating in a project called The Wall of Faces that matches photographs to the more than 58,000 names on the memorial. It's part of a Vietnam Veterans Memorial Fund plan to build an $130 million facility called the Education Center at The Wall. Jones' mother was a Hualapai and his father was a Havasupai. He was born in Barstow, Calif., but lived with both tribes over the course of his young life because his parents lived separately. He graduated from Stewart Indian School in Carson City, Nev., and when he was enlisted he had been attending what is now known as Haskell Indian Nations University in Lawrence, Kan. Johnston has focused on finding photographs of men and women born in Arizona, as well as in Maryland and Washington D.C. Her Arizona efforts were chronicled in The Arizona Republic on Memorial Day. That story included a list of names of people for whom she was still trying to find photographs and information. She had been trying to track down photographs of about 20 Arizonans but is down to just three.

"And I have leads for those," she said. After seeing the Memorial Day article, a member of the 25th Infantry Division 1st of the 5th Mechanized Regiment, known as the "Bobcats," reached out to Johnston to tell her that he remembered Jones. He also invited her to the division's reunion. Johnston was able to find out about Jones' tribal connections and ended up learning quite a bit about him as a result of that conversation and subsequent research. She asked the reunion organizer if tribal members related or close to Jones could also attend and they all were invited. A table at the reunion was devoted to Jones and his short life — including his military service. "This becomes a little bit more for me than just a photograph," Johnston said of this and other experiences related to her work on the Wall of Faces. "You get to know about the people, their families, these kids ... and many of them were just kids."

Go to <https://vietnamera.org/get-involved/> to learn more about the effort to build the education center, where a physical Wall of Faces will exist, and donate money to the cause. There is a Virtual Wall of Faces at <http://www.vvmf.org/wall-of-faces/>

People with photos or information about fallen Vietnam veterans from Arizona not yet on the virtual wall can contact Johnston at nolongerfaceless22@gmail.com.

Hualapai student spent Spring Break restoring ceremonial plants

By Hubble Ray Smith

Courtesy: UNLV. Ka-Voka Jackson, far right, records progress made by UNLV ecology students in removing invasive Ravenna grass from Glen Canyon National Park as part of her master's degree project.

KINGMAN – While most people can appreciate the beauty of the grasslands and rocky canyons of Northern Arizona, the land holds a special meaning for Ka-Voka Jackson. These are the lands where her Hualapai Tribe ancestors lived and farmed and raised their families. Many of them are buried on the land.

Jackson, 24, who grew up on the Hualapai reservation in Peach Springs, has a special connection to her master's degree project at University of Nevada, Las Vegas. She and a group of other UNLV ecology students spent their spring break restoring native plants at Glen Canyon National Recreation Area on the border of Arizona and Utah. Jackson is collaborating with the National Park Service on research to remove invasive Ravenna grass weeds from several canyons along the Colorado River and replace them with native plants used in traditional Hualapai ceremonies and everyday life. Not only do the invasive plants pose a wildfire risk, they're displacing other plants central to Native American culture, religion and history, Jackson said. "Just like other invasive plants can cause issues, it presents a problem because it squeezes out vegetation and it's a fire hazard," she said. "It's a big grass that gets really tall and grows in close quarters. It provides all this dry vegetation that can pose a fire risk." Ravenna grass is not a "very friendly" plant, Jackson said. Wildlife won't eat it because of its sharp, serrated leaves. It'll leave humans with stinging paper-like cuts, she said.

Jackson recruited three UNLV undergraduates to drive nearly five hours to Page, then take a four-hour boat ride to camp in a remote desert area for five days of planting.

They transplanted white sagebrush, a medicinal plant whose leaves and stems are boiled into teas; willow baccharis and arrowweed, whose branches were woven into baskets and thatched roofs; and food sources such as prickly pear cactus, Indian rice grass and four-wing saltbush. They also put in big bluestem grass, which is a native grass smaller than Ravenna that grows in seeps and springs.

It's an ongoing project for Jackson, who juggles three classes at UNLV while raising her 8-year-old daughter. She's working on a separate study examining Ravenna grass seeds in the laboratory for ways to eradicate the plant. She'll make regular visits to the planting site to monitor progress. The project's success is dependent upon analysis of modern-day scientific factors such as climate change, drought and water quality.

Along with preserving the natural beauty and history of Glen Canyon and Grand Canyon national parks, Jackson is striving to maintain a delicately balanced ecosystem with her project. The survival of plants, insects, animals and humans is dependent upon each of their preservation, she explained.

UNLV ecologist Scott Abella was looking for students to work in his laboratory researching culturally important plants. He said he was delighted to get someone from a local Native American tribe.

"It is a special opportunity for her to work on her tribe's ancestral lands," he said. "The Glen Canyon and Grand Canyon area is a special place and as a protected national park unit, we want the area to be in a reasonably natural state."

Hualapai Elderly Advisory Meeting

June 26, 2017

Agenda

- I. ITCA Meeting: June 13-14, 2017
- II. Upcoming Events
- III. Any Concerns

- I. ITCA Meeting: June 13, 2017(T) Unfinished Business Bylaws. We had to table this but we went through the whole items. The AICOA lawyer will look over what changes the group made as a whole to find out what we are doing is legal. Next, was nomination for member-at-large, Vice-President, President plus ICOA member of the year. There was only 8 tribes that will continue: Ak-Chin, Cocopah, Hopi, Kaibab Band of Paiute, Quechan, Salt River, and White Mountain Apache/Ft. McDowell. Jeryle Reina, Vice President, Diana Lucero, member-at-large and Mildred Narcia, President but Mildred declined the ICOA member of the year. We were given the paper to fill out and return on Wednesday. Unfinished Business: 27th Annual AICOA Conference (a) Sponsorship—not to many tribes have given money for the different levels (ex: Eagle level: $5,000.00 or more, Bear level: $3,000.00 to $4,999.00, Turtle level: $1,000.00 to $2,999.00 and Helping Hands: $100.00 to $999.00). Last conference our tribe donated $500.00. I have given the sponsor packet to Damon. We went over the budget, how much we need, lunch talk about food cost. Tour—where the rooms for the workshop speakers, the big room for the opening and where to put the storage things. How many people did the early bird registration—230. We expect 500 people, 270 people will do late registration. Homework 1) Nomination member of the year 2) Key not speaker 3) are we going to have a social gather?
- II. Upcoming Events: June 23-25, 2017—Sobriety Youth Camp; June 26-29, 2017—Language Summit Camp, Youth Camp; July 21, 2017—Family Fun Day, Kingman, AZ and October 9-10, 2017—Aging Conference, Ft. McDowell at We-Ko-Pa Resort.

Report for Day 2—AICOA Meeting at Fountain Hills, AZ

- Aging Conference will be held October 9-10, 2017
- Some tribes have paid for their elders' registration
- Now the registration for each person is $105; 222 paid $95 for early registration, 8 paid $105, 500 available slots.
- AICOA will ask youth in Phoenix area for volunteer work
- There was discussion on who the keynote speakers will be: Barbara and I suggested Rosemary Sullivan (Barbara spoke to Rosemary and the dates work for her). I know there was not an exact date for a deadline to decide on the keynote speakers, but it should be soon. One of the suggestions was to take names out that will ask for fees; Graham Greene, Adam Beach, etc.
- The t-shirts for the conference will be sold at $12.00. the colors chosen was teal as the main color and black printing. The back will have the 22 AZ Native tribes and the AICOA logo.
- Conference bags are red, black and white, given as part of our registration.
- Donations are being taken for raffle prizes. Barbara and I have donated items for the raffle. We both will sell 20 tickets each. Some of the items that were printed on the tickets are 43" flat screen tv, $100 gift card, quilt, native jewelry, running shoes, Hualapai drinking mugs and more.
- The tribes that have given money for sponsorships are:

Ft. McDowell	$5,000
Gila River Indian Community	$3,000
Cocopah	$1,000
Ak-Chin Indian Community	$1,000
Quechan (not rec'd yet)	$1,000
- The social gathering was discussed and Jeryle Reina from Salt River Pima Maricopa Indian Community is asking her tribe to sponsor a live band to play.
- Vivian and Barbara's term is up August 2017.■

April 24, 2017

PUBLIC NOTICEDO NOT tamper with gate valves on the livestock water lines out on the reservation!

Last week 4/17/17 through 4/21/17, HDNR was forced to haul water to districts to ensure that cattle had access to sufficient water while range water located the disruption in the main water line. The disruption was later found to have been a gate valve that had been tampered with which shut down service on the main water line. This caused significant delays in water deliveries, other scheduled projects, and the daily operations of the Hualapai Department of Natural Resources, Agriculture program.

If there is a need for water delivery or there are problems with leaking pipes or valves, please contact the Department of Natural Resources immediately. With your help, we can ensure that there are no service interruptions with water delivery to the livestock districts, tribal agencies, wildlife and community functions out on the reservation.

Should you have any questions or concerns please do not hesitate to contact the Hualapai Department of Natural Resources.

Our mission is to conserve, protect and enhance the natural resources of the Hualapai Reservation while providing for multiple consumptive and non-consumptive uses, and ensuring the overall goal of long-term sustainable and balanced multiple uses of natural resources under the direction of the Hualapai Tribal Council. We are committed to fostering a productive working relationship with all livestock districts and their producers. Should you have any questions or concerns please feel free to contact us.

ATTENTION: PUBLIC NOTICE***

Beginning April 24, 2017, the Hualapai Department of Natural Resources will be conducting a feral horse round-up within the external boundaries of the Hualapai Indian Reservation. This project is being conducted in accordance with Hualapai Tribal Council Resolution No. 50-2003, Ordinance 2B, section 1(b) The grazing of livestock upon reservation lands within an area closed to grazing of that class of livestock, and Ordinance No. 24-70, Section 5.11(f) An abatement Plan formulated pursuant to this section may authorize the trapping, tagging, moving, or killing of hazardous or nuisance animals if necessary for the safety of the public or the protection of property from related damage. This project will continue for an indefinite amount of time until the feral horse population can be brought into more manageable numbers to conserve the natural resources and minimize property damage within the reservation boundaries.

BRING YOUR BIKE AND LET'S RIDE

Wear your helmet the right way, every day!

More than 100 times each day, a bicyclist is killed or injured on US roads. Wearing a helmet the right way can cut your risk of a head injury in half.* Why not check the fit of your helmet today?!

This helmet is too far forward.

This helmet is too far back.

This helmet is level—it's just right!

Your helmet should be snug. One finger should fit between the chin and chin strap.

Shake your head. If the fit is right, your helmet will stay on tight.

My Bike Safety Checklist

Bike riding is lots of fun when everyone is safe.
Use this checklist with your child and have a terrific time!

- ☐ I wear my helmet and safety gear every time I ride. I use my gear when I ride my bike, scooter, skates, or skateboard.
- ☐ My helmet fits and stays on when I shake my head.
I use the Eyes-Ears-Mouth test:

Eyes:
Can you see the edge of your helmet? Is your helmet level?

Ears:
The straps should make a V-shape around your ears.

Mouth: Can you fit 1 finger between your chin and the strap? Open your mouth; can you feel it pull down your helmet?

- ☐ I wear bright, snug clothes and reflective items. I do not wear or carry backpacks with straps. I don't wear items with drawstrings that can get caught in my bike.
- ☐ I do not wear headphones.
- ☐ I only ride where my parents say it is safe.
- ☐ My parents always know where I am going. They know who I'm with and the route I am taking.
- ☐ I check my equipment each time I use it. I make sure nothing is loose or broken. I also check my bike's tires, brakes, and seat.
- ☐ I look left, right, and left again before I enter a path, sidewalk, street or driveway. I keep looking as I cross.
- ☐ I ride in a straight line. I am predictable.
- ☐ I walk my bike across streets.
- ☐ I obey traffic signs and signals.

The Road to Recovery • Monday Nights

Submitted by: Keely Sage

THE ROAD TO RECOVERY

CR is based on life principles passed down from our higher power as spoken in the Beatitudes- Matthew 5: 3-19

CELEBRATE RECOVERY

RECOVERING:

It's not only about addictions, it's about life choices.

- Resolving anger Issues.
- Releasing co-dependent relationships.
- Rediscovering your walk with Jesus.
- Restoring relationships with family and friends.
- Reaching for the Truth.

These are only some of the reasons to attend a
Celebrate Recovery Meeting.

Everyone is welcomed with open arms and minds. We are here to support one another, not fix another.
