Submitted by: Kevin Davidson | Hualapai Planning Department

A Message from the US Census Bureau

"It's time for Hualapai residents to complete and send back their 2020 Census forms! An accurate count of our tribe will help to ensure that we get our fair share of federal funding for the next ten years to come. If you have not filled out your form, please take approximately 10 minutes to do so now. By completing this now, you can avoid someone knocking on your door to collect the information in person beginning on August 11th.

The 2020 Census is safe, easy to fill out - and confidential! You can use the questionnaire packet left at your home to respond online, by calling in your responses, or by mailing back the completed form."

Thank you for your time.

Hello

Due to the current situation, the Hualapai Education Department is currently closed to the community. Many families in the community have often used the department to prepare boarding school applications for their students. If you have completed applications, please drop them off at the tribal office. Every Friday our department will pick them up and send them to the schools. We ask that you do not send original documents with your application such as birth certificates and social security cards. If you any questions please contact me at lghahate@hualapai-nsn.gov

RV Park Town Hall Zoom Meeting ◊ Wednesday, August 19th*Submitted by: Kevin Davidson | Hualapai Planning Department*

Hualapai Planning & Economic Development Department RV Park Town Hall Zoom Meeting AUGUST 19, 2020 @ 3:00 pm (AZ)

The Hualapai Tribe has been exploring the possibility of developing an RV Park on the reservation for several years given the tribe's unique location on historic Route 66 and being located along the south rim of the Grand Canyon. Peach Springs is only 17 miles from the Canyon, and has the only road access to the Canyon at Diamond Creek. This unique location serves as a major tourist attraction on the reservation. Thousands of RVers that travel through Peach Springs year-round are looking for an RV Park to stay. In addition, there are numerous people walking, bicycling, motorcycling, or traveling by some other means that end up camping in town. Many times the travelers simply park or camp alongside of the road, in our hotel's parking space, or in our park, often becoming a nuisance to the community and other travelers. When asked to leave, they will ask where the nearest RV Park or campground is.

RENDERING
Average Campground
Dylon Murphy Architects, P.C.

Currently there are three general locations to be studied including one in Peach Springs' downtown area, one southwest of Peach Springs in what is known as the Truxton Triangle and one at the intersection of Hwy 66 and Indian Route 18 - road to Supai Village. A fourth site at Grand Canyon West was also proposed in the grant application; however, the site has since been contracted by Grand Canyon Resort Corporation to a third party for an RV park design. It is possible that the consultant can suggest additional locations if there are sites better situated for an RV Park.

Southwest Business Development Consultants, LLC (SWBDC) has been selected by the Hualapai Tribe to develop the study. SWBDC has formed a partnership with Ritoch-Powell & Associates, Merge Architectural Group and Data Management of NM, LLC to develop the Feasibility Study.

The project team will host a One Hour Zoom Town Hall Meeting with Hualapai Tribal members on the week of to educate and drive community project ownership, obtain vital feedback, recommendations, which encourage entrepreneurship, small business development activities, promote new job creation opportunities and the effect of the RV Park on the local community. This is great opportunity for tribal members to voice your feedback on the overall planning process of the project.

Southwest Business Development Consultants, LLC is inviting Hualapai Community Members to a scheduled Zoom meeting.

Hualapai Tribal Nation Government COVID-19 Symptoms and COVID-19 Diagnosis Policy

Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to enable Hualapai Tribal Nation Government to continue business operations while limiting the spread of and exposure to COVID-19 for employees. This policy outlines the best practices for dealing with employees who either have a confirmed diagnosis or display symptoms. First and foremost is to promote and reinforce wherever possible a safe culture of best practices for highly infectious diseases.

Definitions

COVID-19 Symptoms (ranging from mild to severe)

- Fever or chills
- Cough
- Shortness of breath
- Fatigue
- Muscle or body aches
- New loss of taste or smell
- Sore throat
- Congestion or runny nose
- Nausea or vomiting
- Diarrhea

Confirmed COVID-19 Diagnoses is when an employee has been formally tested by medical professionals with approved testing techniques and a positive result is returned.

Screening is when employees are asked questions and have their temperature monitored.

Duties and Responsibilities

Management

It is the responsibility of management to support and oversee the implementation of this policy. They are responsible for setting the example and make certain all employees follow the safety practices.

Supervisors

The supervisors is responsible to verify that employees are following best practices to protect themselves. And to support management.

Employees

It is the responsibility of the employees to maintain best practices for protecting themselves from the virus at all times.

These practices include: (directly from CDC website.)

- Frequently wash your hands with soap and water for at least 20 seconds. When soap and running water are unavailable, use an alcohol-based hand rub with at least 60% alcohol. Always wash hands that are visibly soiled.

- Avoid touching your eyes, nose, or mouth with unwashed hands.
- Avoid close contact with people who are sick.

It is also the responsibility of employees to report when they feel they either have been displaying the symptoms of COVID-19 or may have been exposed. It is expressly required that an employee notify their immediate supervisor if they have a confirmed diagnosis. Immediate supervisors will in turn notify their Director, the Incident Command Team and Human Resources.

Practices when an employee displays symptoms

It is at the sole discretion of the managers to determine when the following practices are to be followed. The managers are responsible for the occupational health of the employees they oversee. The managers may also apply some modifications to the sequence of the practices based on the needs and concerns of the employees and operations.

- 1) If an employee is displaying symptoms of COVID-19, or reports to their supervisor they are feeling the symptoms, the manager may request that the employee stay home and recommend that the employee seek medical attention.
 - a. The amount of time the employee stays home depends on the symptoms being displayed and the ongoing health of the employee as determined by the employee in conjunction with professional medical recommendations.
 - b. An “EMERGENCY COVID-19 LEAVE REQUEST FORM” must be filled out and included as part of the employee’s time and attendance.
- 2) In order for an employee to return to work – only one of the following conditions need exist:
 - a. The employee has been home for two weeks and no longer displays any of the symptoms.
 - b. The employee has a note from the doctor indicating another diagnosis, that it is not COVID-19 and the employee is medically cleared to return to work
 - c. A negative COVID-19 test has been obtained and symptoms have not returned since the negative test result.
- 3) In any case it is the manager’s responsibility to ensure the above conditions are met prior to an employee returning to work.

NOTE: the above actions may also be followed if an employee believes that they may have been exposed and choose to self-quarantine.

Practices when an employee has a confirmed diagnosis of COVID-19

All confirmed diagnoses must be held in the strictest of confidences. Only personnel critical to the operations and carrying out of the practices may know and must follow the same efforts to keep the knowledge protected.

- 1) Upon notification – the employee will be sent home and the employee must contact their immediate supervisor. In turn the supervisor must contact the Department Director, Human Resources and the Incident Command Team.
- 2) Supervisors must ensure that an “EMERGENCY COVID-19 LEAVE REQUEST FORM” be filled out and included as part of the employee’s time and attendance.
- 3) The employee’s job tasks will be assessed, and manager will identify all the places the employee has been (to the best of their ability) and all workers who have possibly had interactions with the infected employee. During this process the name of the employee is not to be mentioned and the very best efforts to maintain confidentiality are to be made.

- 4) If it is possible to have the employees tested, test the workers who fall into the compromised demographic and who have had contact with the infected employee.
- 5) Clean all surfaces and equipment where the infected employee has worked with appropriate solutions of bleach to water ratio, or sanitizing wipes.
- 6) Monitor all workers who may have come into contact with the infected employees to see if any symptoms begin to manifest themselves.
- 7) Infected employees may not come back to work until 14 days after a positive test result with the last 3 days being symptom free (while not taking medication) and must also be cleared to come back to work by a medical professional.

Practices for conducting Screening

In order to decrease the risk of exposure to employees and clients the Department may implement the following screening procedures. These screening procedures may be conducting before the employees enters the workplace or begins their job activities. Do not retain answers to the screening questions as this would have to be treated as confidential medical records, verbally answering the questions is acceptable.

- 1) Ensure protection of the individual conducting the screening.
 - a. Conduct the screening so that the employee is not facing the screener directly.
 - b. Wear a mask.
- 2) Screening Questions:
 - a. New cough that you cannot attribute to another health condition?
 - b. New shortness of breath or difficulty breathing that you cannot attribute to another health condition?
 - c. Chills?
 - d. Repeated shaking with chills?
 - e. New muscle aches that you cannot attribute to another health condition or due to activity/exercise?
 - f. New headache?
 - g. New sore throat that you cannot attribute to another health condition?
 - h. New loss of taste or smell?
- 3) Check employee's temperature, as per CDC guidelines a temperature of 100.4 or greater is the cutoff.

NOTE: If the screening process indicates that the employee displays symptoms of COVID-19 then follow the practices listed earlier in the policy.

Hualapai Tribal Nation Government COVID-19 Employment Accommodation for High-Risk Employees

As part of the organizations response to COVID-19, the Hualapai Tribe is committed to supporting employees who are at higher risk of severe illness from COVID-19. If you are 60 years of age, older, or have an underlying medical condition (as determined by a health care professional) you are considered at increased risk of severe outcome from COVID-19 infection.

When requested by an employee considered at high-risk from exposure to COVID-19, the Hualapai Tribe will:

- Provide options for alternative work assignments such as telework, alternative work locations, reassignment, or social distancing measures.
- Where alternative work assignments are not possible, permit a high-risk employee to use any of their accrued paid time off.
- Maintain all employer-related health insurance benefits for employees already eligible for benefits until the employee is deemed eligible to return to work, or until expiration of any unpaid leave of absence period not to exceed 12 weeks.

The Hualapai Tribe will not terminate, suspend, discipline, or take any other adverse employment action against an employee exercising their rights under this policy, nor take any action that would result in loss of the high-risk employee's current position by permanent replacement.

When no work reasonably exists for a high-risk employee, The Hualapai Tribe may permanently or temporarily layoff the employee. Layoff will not adversely affect the employee's eligibility for unemployment benefits.

Process for accommodation requests

Employees with job duties that may require them to work on-site in close contact with others are encouraged to talk to their department about options for physical distancing or performing alternate work assignments.

Requests for an accommodation

Alternate work assignment

If an employee who is at higher risk of severe illness from COVID-19 requests an accommodation due to the potential threat of exposure to COVID-19 in the workplace and the accommodation would be easy to implement or one that you would otherwise provide to any other employee, departments should:

- Implement the accommodation as soon as possible.
- Memorialize the accommodation in writing and forward a copy to HR.

- Communicate the alternate work assignment or other measures to the employee, including any schedule or location changes, anticipated end date, and any other requirements.

Options for physical distancing (including staggering shifts), telework, alternative work locations, reassignment, or performing alternate work assignments should be considered.

Accommodations are provided on an individual basis and created in collaboration with the requesting employee, the appropriate Department Director and Human Resources. If an employee requests an accommodation that is not easy to implement or is not something you would normally provide any other employee, refer the employee to the following procedures:

- Fill out a Request for Reasonable Accommodation Form
- In addition to the Accommodation Request Form you must provide a statement from a health-care professional stating that the specific accommodation is necessary for you to perform CURRENT duties associated with your job.

While the reasonable accommodation analysis is being conducted, the requested accommodation should be temporarily put in place to protect the employee. Communicate to the employee in writing that the accommodation is being temporarily implemented while the accommodation analysis is being conducted.

If temporary accommodations are not possible during the analysis phase, leave of absence options for the employee should be explored. It is important to document the reason why you are not able to temporarily accommodate (focusing on the impact to business processes).

Leave of absence

If the employee's request is for a leave of absence, refer the employee to their Department Director and the Human Resources office.

Employees who choose a leave of absence must give at least five days' advance notice of any decision to report to work or return to work.

ELDER MENTAL HEALTH DURING COVID-19

ADDRESS THE RISK

The outbreak of coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) may be stressful for elders. Older adults are particularly vulnerable to COVID-19 given their weaker immune systems, the higher COVID-19 mortality rate found in the older population, and their limited information sources. Providers should be aware of especially high-risk groups such as low-income elders, those living alone, and those suffering from other health conditions such as cognitive decline, dementia, or other mental health conditions.

MANAGE STRESS

- Share simple facts about the COVID-19 outbreak, including symptoms, treatment, and effective strategies to reduce risk of infection in words older people can understand. Consider whether they have cognitive impairments when speaking about risk.
- Communicate instructions in a clear, concise, and respectful way. Information may be displayed in writing or pictures.
- Engage families with information and help them practice prevention measures such as handwashing.
- Contact elders via landline phones.
- Encourage family or friends to call their elders regularly and teach elders how to use video (chat).

DEFINITIONS

Communities, families, and elders must take steps to protect elders:

What is Social Distancing?

Social distancing means remaining out of settings with large groups of people and maintaining distance (approximately 6 feet) from others when possible. People can practice social distancing while remaining connected to others through the phone and other forms of technology.

What is Isolation?

Isolation means the separation of a person or group of people known or reasonably believed to be infected with a communicable disease and potentially infectious, from those who are not infected, to prevent spread of the disease. Someone infected with COVID-19 may show the following symptoms: fever, cough, trouble breathing, headache, chills, muscle pain, sore throat, or loss of taste or smell. Isolation for public health purposes may be voluntary or compelled by federal, state, or local public health order.

What is Quarantine?

Quarantine means the separation of a person or group of people reasonably believed to have been exposed to a communicable disease but not yet symptomatic. The person or group of people must be separated from others who have not been so exposed to prevent the possible spread of the disease.

Ways to Support Elders with Medical Needs

Elders with mild cognitive impairment or early stages of dementia need to be informed of what is happening within their capacity and provided support to ease their anxiety and stress. For people at moderate and late stages of dementia, their medical and daily living needs need to be met during the quarantine time.

- Medical needs of older adults with/without COVID-19 need to be met during the outbreak. This includes uninterrupted access to essential medicines (for diabetes, cancer, kidney disease, HIV). Telemedicine and online medical services can be used to provide medical services.
- Isolated or infected older people should be presented with truthful information on risk factors and chances of recovery.
- During quarantine, adjust respite or home care services to use technology (WeChat, WhatsApp) to provide trainings/counseling for family caregivers at home, and include psychological first aid training for family caregivers.

Ask for help if you feel overwhelmed or concerned that COVID-19 is affecting your ability to care for your patients as you did before the outbreak.

Activities That Support Elder Well-being During Isolation or Quarantine

- Physical exercise like yoga, tai chi, and stretching
- Cognitive exercises such as word search, Sudoku, and crossword puzzles.
- Relaxation exercises including breathing, meditation, and mindfulness.
- Reading books and magazines.
- Reducing the time spent looking at fearful images on TV.
- Reducing time listening to rumors.
- Searching information from reliable sources such as CDC.gov.
- Reducing time looking for information—1-2 times per day, rather than every hour.

Visit CDC.gov/coronavirus for additional information.

Ways to Support Elders in Residential Care

Nursing home populations are at the highest risk of being affected by COVID-19. If infected, residents are at increased risk of serious illness.

Facilities should take these steps before there are confirmed cases in the community:

1. Educate residents, healthcare personnel, and visitors on COVID-19.
2. Provide hygiene and cleaning supplies for recommended infection prevention and control practices.
3. Evaluate and manage providers with symptoms of COVID-19. Symptoms may include fever, cough, trouble breathing, headache, chills, muscle pain, sore throat, or loss of taste/smell.
4. Consider new policies and procedures for visitors.
5. Evaluate and manage residents with symptoms of COVID-19.
6. Minimize group activities inside the facility or field trips outside of the facility.
7. Develop criteria for halting group activities and communal dining, closing units or the entire facility to new admissions, and restricting visitation.
8. Create a plan for grouping residents with symptoms of COVID-19, including dedicating providers to work only on affected units.

Facilities should take these steps when there are confirmed cases in community:

1. Implement policies and procedures for limiting visitors.
2. Implement healthcare personnel monitoring and restrictions.
3. Monitor residents for symptoms and apply appropriate restrictions of communal activities.

STOP THE SPREAD

WASH YOUR HANDS FREQUENTLY

Regularly and thoroughly clean your hands with an alcohol-based hand rub or wash them with soap and water.

MAINTAIN PHYSICAL DISTANCING

Maintain at least 2 meters (6 feet) distance between yourself and anyone who is coughing or sneezing.

AVOID TOUCHING EYES, NOSE AND MOUTH

Hands touch many surfaces and can pick up viruses. Once contaminated, hands can transfer the virus to your eyes, nose or mouth.

IF YOU HAVE A FEVER, COUGH AND DIFFICULTY BREATHING, SEEK MEDICAL CARE EARLY

Stay home if you feel unwell. If you have a fever, cough and difficulty breathing, seek medical attention and call in advance.

If you are at higher risk of severe COVID-19, prepare now:

- Plan ahead with your doctor on when to seek routine care (e.g. at off-peak hours) and what to do if you were to get sick
- Make sure all your vaccinations are up to date
- Have sufficient quantity of your regular medication, non-perishable food and other supplies to minimize trips outside your home*
- Limit in-home services and visitors to what is essential – only people that are healthy should visit
- Keep up to date on national public health advice

FUN IN THE SUN WITH YOUR PETS

WHAT is HEATSTROKE? Heatstroke is when normal body mechanisms can't keep the body's temperature in a safe range. Animals don't have efficient cooling systems like humans (who sweat) and can get overheated easily.

SIGNS OF HEATSTROKE

In dogs:

- Rapid breathing
- Bright red tongue
- Red or pale gums
- Thick sticky saliva
- Depression
- Weakness
- Dizziness
- Vomiting
- Diarrhea
- Shock/coma
- Even unconsciousness

In cats:

- Rapid breathing
- Redness in mouth
- Sweaty feet
- Stumble/Stagger
- Excess Grooming
- Relentless
- Drooling
- Vomiting
- Lethargy
- Panting

Call your veterinarian right away if your dog shows any of these signs of heat stroke.

What you can do to help your animal:

1. Put your dog in a cool well-ventilated area;
2. Wet fur with a cool towel or cool water;
(DO NOT USE COLD WATER - you have to lower their body temperature slowly.)
3. Give your dog fresh, cool water to drink or pedialyte

~Tips for your dogs in warm weather !

If you're HOT, your dog is Hotter.
Just like people; dogs will do less in the heat.

- Never leave pets unattended in a vehicle, even if you leave the windows cracked - temperatures still reach deadly levels. Dogs don't have sweat glands and can die quickly.
- Dogs need LOTS of clean water ALL THE TIME.
- Limit exercise on hot days - exercise your pets in cooler temperatures preferably morning and evenings.
- Pavement gets hot - if you have your dog on the porch; make sure you keep the pavement cool. Wet the pavement frequently - if you can't commit to doing that consider cooling mats or small pools.
- Provide plenty of shade: Anytime you tie your dog up, always give them at least* 8 feet of leash.
- Remember bugs are just as annoying to your dog as they are to you. Don't leave your animal in a bug infested area.
- Watch for signs of heatstroke pets that are very old, young, overweight not conditioned to prolonged exercise or have heart respiratory disease are susceptible to heatstroke. Dogs with short muzzles have a hard time breathing in extreme heat.
