Submitted by: Adeline Crozier | Hualapai Tribal Administration

“EVERY NATIVE VOTE COUNTS”

General Election: November 3, 2020

In November of even years the winners of the Primary election, judges, nonpartisan candidates, and propositions appear on this ballot. Ballots are precinct specific, not party specific. This is when you vote for the U.S. President.

Voter Registration Deadline: October 5, 2020

If you turned age 18 and would like to register to vote in this election, the Tribal Office does have applications, or you can go to My.Arizona.vote or Elections@azsos.gov.

Remember “EVERY NATIVE VOTE COUNTS”

Contact Addie at the Hualapai Tribal Office at 769-2216, if you have any questions.

Mail-In Ballots

This is much easier without having to go to the polling site.

Return Ballots By: October 28, 2020

The Frank Harrison and Harry Austin Voting Rights Scholarship Essay Contest

Frank Harrison and Harry Austin were members of the Fort McDowell Yavapai Nation who in 1947 attempted to vote and were denied by the Maricopa County Recorder. On July 15, 1948, the Arizona Supreme Court ruled in favor of Mr. Harrison and Mr. Austin after they filed a lawsuit against the county – overturning a previous decision that blocked the right for American Indians in Arizona to vote. Today we celebrate and honor their victory by practicing the civic right they fought to achieve. Participating in elections represents the voices of our future and of those who were refused their right before us. Answers to Common Questions

The stay-at-home order applies 24 hours a day/7 days a week for all community members to stay within the boundary of their property and limit direct communication with the public to avoid potential contact with COVID-19.

How many individuals are allowed in a vehicle at the checkpoint(s)?

Resolution 36-2020 states two adults or parents with minors. Traffic control points will only limit two entrances (round trip) per day so please plan your trips accordingly. Employees performing essential functions are not subject to the two round trip entrances per day. Your entrance and exit at the checkpoint coming to and from work will NOT count against your allotted two round trip entrances per day.

To help enforce the stay-at-home order currently in place, food sales are NOT permitted in our community.

Is ICT able to pick-up food orders in Kingman?

At this time, the only delivery option we have for food is from the local Walapai Market. For quarantined and isolated homes, we encourage family members and friends of individuals to assist in picking up their orders, dropping the essentials items off at HEW, and the ICT will deliver to the their homes.

Who do I call for medical transportation?

If you do not have transportation for medical appointments, the Hualapai Transportation Program and/or Hualapai Transit Department may assist if available. They can be reached at (928) 769-2207 or (928) 769-6090.

Are individuals allowed to exercise outdoors?

Exercising outside your residential boundary is NOT permitted at this time. We encourage individuals to stay within the boundary of their homes.

Am I able to walk to the store, post office, clinic, etc.?

Walking on improved streets to perform essential functions is the only acceptable action i.e, to work (essential employees), store for food/supplies, and to/from medical appointments.

Is Diamond Creek (the river) open?

At this time, Diamond Creek is CLOSED to the public and Hualapai community. Access is only granted to permitted companies.

Can I visit my family who reside at other residences?

Visiting other residences is NOT allowed under the stay-at-home order. Visiting does not limit direct contact nor does it help to avoid the potential spread of COVID-19.

Can I drop off essential supplies to family members?

Stopping at other residences is not authorized. Essential supplies can be brought to the ICT office at 488 Hualapai Way (Hualapai Health, Education and Wellness Department) be delivered to family members in other residences. Through its Ready Campaign, the Federal Emergency Management Agency educates and empowers Americans to take some simple steps to prepare for and respond to potential emergencies, including natural disasters and terrorist attacks. Ready asks individuals to do three key things: get an emergency supply kit, make a family emergency plan, and be informed about the different types of emergencies that could occur and their appropriate responses.

All Americans should have some basic supplies on hand in order to survive for at least three days if an emergency occurs. Following is a listing of some basic items that every emergency supply kit should include. However, it is important that individuals review this list and consider where they live and the unique needs of their family in order to create an emergency supply kit that will meet these needs. Individuals should also consider having at least two emergency supply kits, one full kit at home and smaller portable kits in their workplace, vehicle or other places they spend time.

Coronavirus (COVID-19) and Stigma

Submitted by: Martina Dawley | Hualapai Cultural Resources Department

Coronavirus (COVID-19) and Stigma

Viruses Don't Discriminate, and Neither Should We

Stigma is a strong feeling of disapproval that is often based on unfair judgment or misinformation about a group of people or certain actions or activities. The stress, fear, and anxiety about a disease, like COVID-19, can lead to stigma toward people or places. Stigma hurts everyone by creating fear and anger. Stigmatized people are hurt emotionally and mentally, and may be rejected by others, denied healthcare, education, housing or employment, or even face physical violence. We can all do our part to reduce stigma.

Coronavirus doesn't recognize race, nationality, or ethnicity.

Diseases can make anyone sick regardless of their race or ethnicity. COVID-19 started in China, but that's just geography. Having Chinese ancestry (or any other ancestry) does not make a person more likely to get COVID-19. Likewise, being from a place where people have COVID-19 doesn't mean the person has the disease.

Wearing a mask does not mean a person is ill.

We should not judge someone for wearing a mask/bandana or assume they are sick. People wear masks for a variety of reasons, including to avoid pollen and air pollution, for cultural and social reasons, or they may be wearing the mask because they (or someone they care for) are at higher risk for getting sick, and they are trying to protect themselves. They may be a health care worker doing their best to keep everyone safe.

You can interrupt stigma. Start by sharing information that is true.

Know the facts and avoid spreading misinformation. Stay informed through trusted sources like the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC.gov), Indian Health Service (IHS.gov), Johns Hopkins University (JHU.edu), etc.

Speak up if you hear, see, or read false information or mistreatment of others.

Gently correct false information, and remind the speaker that speaking badly of others and treating them unkindly makes us all less safe. If serious mistreatment occurs, report it to authorities or call 911.

Show compassion and support for those most closely impacted.

Listen to, acknowledge and, with their consent, share the stories of people experiencing stigma, along with a message that treating people this way is not acceptable in your community. Create learning opportunities for youth and others to identify and correct racist and misinformed ideas.

We're all in this together.

Everyone can do their part to help slow the spread of coronavirus. There are things you can do to help keep yourself and others healthy. Stay home, wash hands often with soap and water for at least 20 seconds, avoid touching eyes, nose and mouth, and clean and sanitize commonly-touched items in the home frequently. When sick, stay away from others and cover coughs and sneezes with a tissue, then throw the tissue in the trash and wash hands.

Social Stigma associated with COVID-19

A guide to preventing and addressing social stigma¹

Target audience: Government, media and local organizations working on the new coronavirus disease (COVID-19).

WHAT IS SOCIAL STIGMA?

Social stigma in the context of health is the negative association between a person or group of people who share certain characteristics and a specific disease. In an outbreak, this may mean people are labelled, stereotyped, discriminated against, treated separately, and/or experience loss of status because of a perceived link with a disease.

Such treatment can negatively affect those with the disease, as well as their caregivers, family, friends and communities. People who don't have the disease but share other characteristics with this group may also suffer from stigma. The current COVID-19 outbreak has provoked social stigma and discriminatory behaviors against people of certain ethnic backgrounds as well as anyone perceived to have been in contact with the virus.

WHY IS COVID-19 CAUSING SO MUCH STIGMA?

The level of stigma associated with COVID-19 is based on three main factors: 1) it is a disease that's new and for which there are still many unknowns; 2) we are often afraid of the unknown; and 3) it is easy to associate that fear with 'others'.

It is understandable that there is confusion, anxiety, and fear among the public. Unfortunately, these factors are also fueling harmful stereotypes.

WHAT IS THE IMPACT?

Stigma can undermine social cohesion and prompt possible social isolation of groups, which might contribute to a situation where the virus is more, not less, likely to spread. This can result in more severe health problems and difficulties controlling a disease outbreak.

Stigma can:

- Drive people to hide the illness to avoid discrimination
- Prevent people from seeking health care immediately
- Discourage them from adopting healthy behaviors

HOW TO ADDRESS SOCIAL STIGMA

Evidence clearly shows that stigma and fear around communicable diseases hamper the response. What works is building trust in reliable health services and advice, showing empathy with those affected, understanding the disease itself, and adopting effective, practical measures so people can help keep themselves and their loved ones safe.

How we communicate about COVID-19 is critical in supporting people to take effective action to help combat the disease and to avoid fueling fear and stigma. An environment needs to be created in which the disease and its impact can be discussed and addressed openly, honestly and effectively.

Here are some tips on how to address and avoid compounding, social stigma:

1. Words matter. dos and don'ts when talking about the new coronavirus (COVID-19)
2. Do your part. simple ideas to drive stigma away
3. Communication tips and messages.

WORDS MATTER:

When talking about coronavirus disease, certain words (i.e suspect case, isolation...) and language may have a negative meaning for people and fuel stigmatizing attitudes. They can perpetuate existing negative stereotypes or assumptions, strengthen false associations between the disease and other factors, create widespread fear, or dehumanize those who have the disease.

This can drive people away from getting screened, tested and quarantined. We recommend a 'people first' language that respects and empowers people in all communication channels, including the media. Words used in media are especially important, because these will shape the popular language and communication on the new coronavirus (COVID-19). Negative reporting has the potential to influence how people suspected to have the new coronavirus (COVID-19), patients and their families and affected communities are perceived and treated.

There are many concrete examples of how the use of inclusive language and less stigmatizing terminology can help to in control epidemics and pandemics from the HIV, TB and H1N1 Flu.²

DOS and DON'TS

Below are some dos and don'ts on language when talking about the new coronavirus disease (COVID-19):

DO - talk about the new coronavirus disease (COVID-19)

Don't - attach locations or ethnicity to the disease, this is not a "Wuhan Virus", "Chinese Virus" or "Asian Virus". The official name for the disease was deliberately chosen to avoid stigmatization - the "co" stands for Corona, "vi" for virus and "d" for disease, 19 is because the disease emerged in 2019.

DO - talk about "people who have COVID-19", "people who are being treated for COVID-19", "people who are recovering from COVID-19" or "people who died after contracting COVID19"

Don't - refer to people with the disease as "COVID-19 cases" or "victims"

DO - talk about "people who may have COVID-19" or "people who are presumptive for COVID-19"

Don't - talk about "COVID-19 suspects" or "suspected cases".

DO - talk about people "acquiring" or "contracting" COVID-19

Don't talk about people "transmitting COVID-19" "infecting others" or "spreading the virus" as it implies intentional transmission and assigns blame. Using criminalizing or dehumanizing terminology creates the impression that those with the disease have somehow done something wrong or are less human than the rest of us, feeding stigma, undermining empathy, and potentially fueling wider reluctance to seek treatment or attend screening, testing and quarantine.

DO - speak accurately about the risk from COVID-19, based on scientific data and latest official health advice.

Don't - repeat or share unconfirmed rumors, and avoid using hyperbolic language designed to generate fear like "plague", "apocalypse" etc.

DO - talk positively and emphasize the effectiveness of prevention and treatment measures. For most people this is a disease they can overcome. There are simple steps we can all take to keep ourselves, our loved ones and the most vulnerable safe.

Don't - emphasize or dwell on the negative, or messages of threat. We need to work together to help keep those who are most vulnerable safe.

DO - emphasize the effectiveness of adopting protective measures to prevent acquiring the new coronavirus, as well as early screening, testing and treatment.

DO YOUR PART:

Governments, citizens, media, key influencers and communities have an important role to play in preventing and stopping stigma surrounding people from China and Asia in general. We all need to be intentional and thoughtful when communicating on social media and other communication platforms, showing supportive behaviors around the new coronavirus disease (COVID-19).

Here are some examples and tips on possible actions to counter stigmatizing attitudes:

- Spreading the facts: Stigma can be heightened by insufficient knowledge about how the new coronavirus disease (COVID-19) is transmitted and treated, and how to prevent infection. In response, prioritize the collection, consolidation and dissemination of accurate country- and community-specific information about affected areas, individual and group vulnerability to COVID19, treatment options and where to access health care and information. Use simple language and avoid clinical terms. Social media is useful for reaching a large number of people with health information at relatively low cost.³

- Engaging social influencers⁴ such as religious leaders on prompting reflection about people who are stigmatized and how to support them, or respected celebrities to amplify messages that reduce stigma. The information should be well targeted and the celebrities who are asked to communicate this information must be personally engaged, and geographically and culturally appropriate to the audiences they seek to influence. An example would be a mayor (or another key influencer) going live on social media and shaking hands with the leader of the Chinese community.
- Amplify the voices, stories and images of local people who have experienced the new coronavirus (COVID-19) and have recovered or who have supported a loved one through recovery to emphasize that most people do recover from COVID-19. Also, implementing a “hero” campaign honoring caretakers and healthcare workers who may be stigmatized. Community volunteers also play a great role in reducing stigma in communities.
- Make sure you portray different ethnic groups. All materials should show diverse communities being impacted and working together to prevent the spread of COVID-19. Ensure that typeface, symbols and formats are neutral and don't suggest any particular group.
- Ethical journalism: Journalistic reporting which overly focuses on individual behavior and patients' responsibility for having and “spreading COVID-19” can increase stigma of people who may have the disease. Some media outlets have, for example, focused on speculating on the source of COVID-19, trying to identify “patient zero” in each country. Emphasizing efforts to find a vaccine and treatment can increase fear and give the impression that we are powerless to halt infections now. Instead, promote content around basic infection prevention practices, symptoms of COVID-19 and when to seek health care.
- Link up: There are a number of initiatives to address stigma and stereotyping. It is key to link up to these activities to create a movement and a positive environment that shows care and empathy for all.

COMMUNICATION TIPS and MESSAGES

An “infodemic” of misinformation and rumors is spreading more quickly than the current outbreak of the new coronavirus (COVID-19). This contributes to negative effects including stigmatization and discrimination of people from areas affected by the outbreak. We need collective solidarity and clear, actionable information to support communities and people affected by this new outbreak.

Misconceptions, rumors and misinformation are contributing to stigma and discrimination which hamper response efforts.

- Correct misconceptions at the same time as acknowledging that people's feelings and subsequent behavior are very real, even if the underlying assumption is false.
- Promote the importance of prevention, lifesaving actions, early screening and treatment.

Collective solidarity and global cooperation are needed to prevent further transmission and alleviate the concerns of communities.

- Share sympathetic narratives, or stories that humanize the experiences and struggles of individuals or groups affected by the new coronavirus (COVID-19)
- Communicate support and encouragement for those who are on the frontlines of response to this outbreak (health care workers, volunteers, community leaders etc).

Facts, not fear will stop the spread of novel coronavirus (COVID-19)

- Share facts and accurate information about the disease.
- Challenge myths and stereotypes.
- Choose words carefully. The way we communicate can affect the attitudes of others (see do's and don'ts above).

¹This checklist includes recommendations from Johns Hopkins Center for Communication Programs, READY Network.

²UNAIDS terminology guidelines: from ‘AIDS victim’ to ‘people living with HIV’; from ‘fight against AIDS’ to ‘response to AIDS’.

³Nigeria successfully contained the 2014 Ebola outbreak that affected three other countries in West Africa partly through employing targeted social media campaigns to disseminate accurate information and correct hoax messages circulating on Twitter and Facebook. The intervention was particularly effective because international non-governmental organizations (NGOs), social media influencers, celebrities and bloggers used their broad platforms to forward and share information and opinions on the health communication shared. Fayoyin, A. 2016. Engaging social media for health communication in Africa: Approaches, results and lessons. Journal of Mass Communication and Journalism, 6(315).

⁴The term “Angelina Jolie effect” was coined by public health communication researchers to account for increased Internet searches about breast cancer genetics and testing for several years after 2013 actress Angelina Jolie underwent a much-reported preventative double mastectomy. The “effect” suggests that celebrity endorsements from trusted sources can be effective at influencing the public to seek health knowledge, their attitudes towards and uptake of healthcare services for Covid-19.

Washing and Hand Sanitizer Use at Home, at Play and Out and About

Submitted by: Rebecca Rice | Indian Health Services, Public Health Nurse

Handwashing and Hand Sanitizer Use at Home, at Play, and Out and About

Germs are everywhere! They can get onto hands and items we touch during daily activities and make you sick. Cleaning hands at key times with soap and water or hand sanitizer is one of the most important steps you can take to avoid getting sick and spreading germs to those around you.

There are important differences between washing hands with soap and water and cleaning them with hand sanitizer. For example, alcohol-based hand sanitizers don't kill ALL types of germs, such as a stomach bug called norovirus, some parasites, and Clostridium difficile, which causes severe diarrhea. Hand sanitizers also may not remove harmful chemicals, such as pesticides and heavy metals like lead. Handwashing reduces the amounts of all types of germs, pesticides, and metals on hands. Knowing when to clean your hands and which method to use will give you the best chance of preventing sickness.

When should I use?

Soap and Water

- Before, during, and after preparing food
- Before eating food
- Before and after caring for someone who is sick
- Before and after treating a cut or wound
- After using the bathroom, changing diapers, or cleaning up a child who has used the bathroom
- After blowing your nose, coughing, or sneezing
- After touching an animal, animal food or treats, animal cages, or animal waste
- After touching garbage
- If your hands are visibly dirty or greasy

Alcohol-Based Hand Sanitizer

- Before and after visiting a friend or a loved one in a hospital or nursing home, unless the person is sick with Clostridium difficile (if so, use soap and water to wash hands).
- If soap and water are not available, use an alcohol-based hand sanitizer that contains at least 60% alcohol, and wash with soap and water as soon as you can.
- Do NOT use hand sanitizer if your hands are visibly dirty or greasy: for example, after gardening, playing outdoors, or after fishing or camping (unless a handwashing station is not available). Wash your hands with soap and water instead.

U.S. Department of Health and Human Services
Centers for Disease Control and Prevention

How should I use?

Soap and Water

- Wet your hands with clean running water (warm or cold) and apply soap.
- Lather your hands by rubbing them together with the soap.
- Scrub all surfaces of your hands, including the palms, backs, fingers, between your fingers, and under your nails. Keep scrubbing for 20 seconds. Need a timer? Hum the “Happy Birthday” song twice.
- Rinse your hands under clean, running water.
- Dry your hands using a clean towel or air dry them.

Alcohol-Based Hand Sanitizer

Use an alcohol-based hand sanitizer that contains at least 60% alcohol. Supervise young children when they use hand sanitizer to prevent swallowing alcohol, especially in schools and childcare facilities.

- Apply. Put enough product on hands to cover all surfaces.
- Rub hands together, until hands feel dry. This should take around 20 seconds.

Note: Do not rinse or wipe off the hand sanitizer before it's dry; it may not work as well against germs.

COMMUNITY MESSAGES

Letter to the Community

Submitted by: DanO | KWLP 100.9FM

Gamyu je' Peach Springs Community

When I started working for the tribe 5 years ago, I had no idea what I was getting into. The radio station was on the verge of becoming FM and I wasn't sure of my place among the community. Being a newcomer the first couple months were hard on me, transitioning to a community and culture I knew nothing about. I had one goal when I started working at KWLP, to learn everything I could about the place I was broadcasting and to always entertain/inform to the best of my abilities. As time went on, I began to learn about the values of the Hualapai tribe and the rich culture that surrounded it. I had long talks with elders at the station and also community members to gain a better understanding of what it means to be Hualapai. I listened to stories, went to classes at the cultural center, MC'd/DJ'd countless events, recorded countless announcements for tribal departments and recorded many Hualapai speaking the language.

5 years later I find myself making the hardest the decision of my life to leave a community and radio station that I truly care about. The time that I spent with the Hualapai Tribe will always mean something special to me. So special it's actually hard to describe, it's a feeling, a sense of pride that I got the privilege to work for the Hualapai Tribe. Over my time here so many people have opened their hearts to me, teaching me Hualapai values, culture, and language. The Hualapai Tribe has taught me more about myself than I have ever known. I can never thank this community enough for treating me like one of your own. I value deep in the depths of my heart every event I did, every spot I recorded, every conversation I ever had with you community members. This place has taught me things that I will carry with me the rest of my life. Values I will pass down to my children, the kids I coach and other stations I will work at. The Hualapai people are strong, resilient and prideful. With a beautiful culture and sense of family that runs generations deep.

Please keep supporting KWLP the Peach. That is YOUR station, be a part of it and have your voice heard. Take pride in knowing that KWLP is known all over Indian country and the world. There are no words to describe how special it was to help be a part of that. I don't think I can say thank you enough People of the Tall Pines for everything you have taught and done for me. I will truly miss this community and the amazing people that live in it. I have memories that I will cherish the rest of my life. Hopefully at some point in my 5 years working with the tribe I was able to put on smile on your face, because every day working with this community put a smile on mine.

Keep staying Hualapai strong and hopefully I see you again someday.

DanO

Up-coming United States 2020 General Election

My name is Jean Pagilawa—I am writing this to the Tribal Community because of the urgent importance for everyone to VOTE in the up-coming United States General Election, November 3, 2020.

Trump needs to be removed from the White House. Congressional Democrats did their duty to remove Trump from his Presidency, by IMPEACHMENT, which passed the House. The Republican Senate voted not to remove Trump.

Trump has been bad news for our Country from the very day he decided to run for President. I was very disappointed when he got the Election. How he did, puzzles me. He has no good purpose for this office, like everyone is saying, he is in for himself and his rich corrupt followers. He is corrupt, liar, deceitful and has no regard for any one of the US Citizens and does not care what he is doing to our Country and other Nations.

He has violated the US Constitution many times, doing what ever he wants without approval from Congress. Which is downright wrong. He does not listen to any of his advisors, disgraces and belittles all US Official, Judges, General Attorneys, Governors and other National Leaders. Who does that, only someone who has no respect for himself and others. He has no place in our Government.

We see it every day how his corruption is tearing down our Country in every way. We are going down and fast, because of his wrong doings and lack of interest to make good sensible decisions. He is doing only what is benefiting himself and family who happen to be all in the White House, how corrupt can they get.

If he should be re-elected, might as well say good by to our freedom. Our freedom as we know it will be gone. We will live under a dictatorship like China and Russia.

Those of you that voted for him and will vote for him again. Think twice. HE DOES NOT CARE FOR YOU, YOUR WELLBEING, HE USES INDIVIDUALS, IF YOU DO NOT DO WHAT HE WANTS, HE'LL SHOVE YOU ASIDE. DO THE RIGHT THING FOR OUR COUNTRY AND FOR THE FUTURE OF OUR CHILDREN, GRANDCHILDREN.

Vote to remove Trump and replace him with BIDEN, so we can all breath easily. Thank you.
