Veterans Day • Honor Where Honor is Due
Submitted by: Sylvia Whatongue | Hualapai Tribal Administration

Honor Where Honor Is Due

At this present time, appreciation is expressed to Military Veterans of all branches, all races, different faith, cultures and language, adapted to changes by stepping into a commitment becoming that solid foundation in serving our country, giving us that freedom in America.

Once life was full of energy, excitement, spirit, life and vigor, then came the early morning wake up call by reveille. One trained as a Soldier in all types of obstacle course, whew! Shudder, is all you think of, but one is on the way to receive that Honor, labeled for life. Rough and tough it was, but as one achieved, one was shaped into that masterpiece of fine young men and women, skills learned, along with experiences, is the outcome of life to come. Piecing the values learned, one became that precious person with many things to offer in their perspective way.

As life goes on, one is in the midst, shaping and molding, in an unseen way. Life in the military was never a loss, we Honor them today.

Veterans Day • Prayer for Veterans & List of Veterans
Submitted by: Randall Mahone | Hualapai Veterans

Prayer for Veterans

Eternal Father, source of unfailing light, we honor the men and women who have stood the watch, who have borne the heat of the day as guardians and servants in our armed forces.
Today they remain with us, marked by their labors.
Their marks may be visible or hidden, spoken or untold, glorious or devastating.

They are the living memory of the field of battle, the blackened seas, and the grief of war.
They are the unbroken lineage of the bearers of our nation’s flag;
a terror to the enemy, and a beacon to those in need.
They are wise in ways that we cannot know, but must seek to understand.

Grant them, loving God, knowledge of their dignity, renewal in their task and purpose, and healing of any wounds.
Protect and guard them, as they have protected and guarded us.

We who now serve in all ranks—who have come of age during their watch or their retirement—we stand before You O Lord giving thanks for these, our brothers and sisters.
May You continue to shield them in their battles, and at last bring them safely home to You.

Amen.

RESPONDENT BURDEN - Public reporting burden for this collection of information is estimated to average 15 minutes per response, including the time for reviewing instructions, searching existing data sources, gathering and maintaining the data needed, and completing and reviewing the collection of information. VA cannot conduct or sponsor a collection of information unless it has a valid OMB number. Your obligation to respond is voluntary, however, your response is required to obtain benefits. Send comments regarding this burden estimate or any other aspect of this collection of information, including suggestions for reducing this burden to the VA Clearance Officer (065R1B), 810 Vermont Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20420. Please DO NOT send claims for benefits to this address.

BENEFIT PROVIDED

a. HEADSTONE OR MARKER

Only for Veterans who died on or after November 1, 1990 - Furnished for the grave of any eligible deceased Veteran. Will be provided for placement in private cemeteries regardless of whether or not the grave is already marked with a privately-purchased headstone or marker.

Only for Veterans who died before November 1, 1990 - Furnished for the UNMARKED GRAVE of any eligible deceased Veteran. The applicant must certify the grave is unmarked. For Veterans that served prior to World War I, a grave is considered marked when a headstone/marker displays the decedent's name only, or if the name was historically documented in a related document, such as by a number that is inscribed on a grave block and is recorded in a burial ledger. For service during and after World War I, a grave is considered marked if a headstone/marker displays the decedent's name and date of birth and/or death, even though the Veteran's military data is not shown.

b. MEMORIAL HEADSTONE OR MARKER - Furnished for placement in a cemetery only to commemorate a deceased eligible Veteran whose remains have not been recovered or identified, were buried at sea, donated to science, or cremated and the remains scattered. May not be used as a memento. Check box in block 28 and explain in block 27.

c. MEDALLION - Eligible Veterans may receive a Government-furnished headstone or marker, or a medallion, but not both. If requesting a medallion, please use VA Form 40-1330M.

WHO IS ELIGIBLE - Any deceased Veteran discharged under honorable conditions and any member of the Armed Forces of the United States who dies on active duty. A deceased Veteran discharged under conditions other than honorable may also be eligible. A copy of the deceased Veteran's discharge certificate (DD Form 214 or equivalent) or a copy of other official document(s) establishing qualifying military service must be attached. Do not send original documents; they will not be returned. Service after September 7, 1980, must be for a minimum of 24 months continuous active duty or be completed under special circumstances, e.g., death on active duty. Persons who have only limited active duty service for training while in the National Guard or Reserves are not eligible unless there are special circumstances, e.g., death while on active duty, or as a result of training. Reservists and National Guard members who, at time of death, were entitled to retired pay, or would have been entitled, but for being under the age of 60, are eligible; a copy of the Reserve Retirement Eligibility Benefits Letter must accompany the claim. Reservists called to active duty other than training and National Guard members who are Federalized and who serve for the period called are eligible. Service prior to World War I requires detailed documentation, e.g., muster rolls, extracts from State files, military or State organization where served, pension or land warrant, etc.

WHO CAN APPLY - Federal regulation defines "applicant" as the decedent's Next-of-Kin (NOK); a person authorized in writing by the NOK; or a personal representative authorized in writing by the decedent. Written authorization must be included with claim. A notarized statement is not required.

Requests for these special styles should be made in block 27 of the claim. It is necessary to submit detailed documentation that supports eligibility. Inscriptions on these headstone types are intentionally limited to assure historic accuracy. For example, only rank above 'Private' was historically authorized; emblems of belief and the words 'Civil War' are not provided.

INSCRIPTION INFORMATION

MEMORIAL HEADSTONES AND MARKERS (remains are not buried). The words "In Memory Of" are mandatory and precede the authorized inscription data. The words "In Memory Of" are only inscribed when remains are not available.

MANDATORY ITEMS of inscription at Government expense are: Legal Name, Branch of Service, Year of Birth, Year of Death, and for State Veterans and National Cemeteries only, the section and grave number. Branches of Service are: U.S. Army (USA), U.S. Navy (USN), U.S. Air Force (USAF), U.S. Marine Corps (USMC), U.S. Coast Guard (USCG), U.S. Army Air Forces (USAAF), and other parent organizations authorized for certain periods of time; and special units such as Women's Army Auxiliary Corps (WAAC), Women's Air Force Service Pilots (WASP), U.S. Public Health Service (USPHS), and National Oceanic & Atmospheric Administration (NOAA). Different examples of inscription formats are illustrated above. More than one branch of service is permitted, subject to space availability.

OPTIONAL ITEMS are identified on the claim in boxes with bold outlines. These items may be included at Government expense if desired. Optional items include month and day of birth in block 5A, month and day of death in block 5B, highest rank attained in block 7, awards in block 9, war service in block 10, and emblem of belief in block 12. War service includes active duty service during a recognized period of war and the individual does not have to serve in the actual place of war, e.g., Vietnam may be inscribed if the Veteran served during the Vietnam War period, even though the individual never served in the country. Supporting documentation must be included with the claim if you wish to include the highest rank and/or awards.

ADDITIONAL ITEMS may be inscribed at Government expense if they are requested on the initial claim and space is available. Examples of additional items include appropriate terms of endearment, nicknames (in expressions such as "OUR BELOVED POPPY"), military or civilian credentials or accomplishments such as DOCTOR, REVEREND, etc., and special unit designations such as WOMEN'S ARMY CORPS, ARMY AIR CORPS, ARMY NURSE CORPS or SEABEES. All requests for additional inscription items should be stated in block 27, and are subject to VA approval. No graphics, emblems or pictures are permitted except available emblems of belief, the Medal of Honor, and the Southern Cross of Honor for Civil War Confederates.

RESERVED SPACE for future inscriptions at private expense, such as spousal or dependent data, is allowed if requested in block 27 and if space is available. Only two lines of space may be reserved on flat markers due to space limitations. Reserved space is unnecessary on upright marble or granite headstones as the reverse side is available for future inscriptions.

INCOMPLETES OR INACCURATE INFORMATION ON THE CLAIM MAY RESULT IN ITS RETURN TO THE CLAIMANT, A DELAY IN RECEIPT OF THE HEADSTONE OR MARKER, OR AN INCORRECT INSCRIPTION.

The EA analyzes potential environmental impacts resulting from the proposed project. The preliminary EA is located on the BLM’s National NEPA register at: https://go.usa.gov/xMVj5

The public comment period is for 30 days, beginning on October 25, 2021 and ending November 24, 2021. Electronic comments may be submitted via blm.eplanning.gov link shown above. "Smallness is a state of mind," said Kathy Jetnil-Kijiner, climate envoy from the Republic of the Marshall Islands, at a press briefing yesterday morning, citing Tongan scholar Epeli Hau‘ofa. "That’s really applicable to the ways in which islanders, who despite being small in land mass, have been holding the line at these negotiations," she added.

Island nations, which include 47 countries, representing a population of 750 million and 5.3 percent of the globe’s land mass, are among those that have contributed the least to climate change and global greenhouse gas emissions yet are disproportionately suffering their impacts. These effects include sea level rise, ocean acidification, drought, and salinization of soil and water wells, each of which impacts food supplies.

The annual UN climate negotiations try to achieve two things: to establish commitments for greenhouse gas emissions (ghg) reductions and for funding. Islands have called on developed nations to reduce ghg emissions by 45–55 percent from 2010 levels by 2030, as called for by the recent Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change report, and to pay all the promised funds of $100 billion per year starting in 2020 and through 2025.

At previous COP conferences, island nations and the UN groups that represent them, such as the Alliance of Small Island States and the Small Island Developing States, have consistently called on the developing world to increase ambitions with regard to both ghg emissions reductions and funding. In this regard, this year is no different. COP26 opened with a focus on islands, as the powerful words of Mia Mottley, prime minister of Barbados, quickly went viral. “In the words of that Caribbean icon, Eddy Grant: Will they mourn us on the front line? When will we as leaders across the world address the pressing issues that are truly causing our people angst and worry, whether it is vaccines or climate crisis? Simply put: When will leaders lead? Our people are watching and our people are taking note. Are we really going to leave Scotland without the commitment to ambition that is sorely needed to save lives and to save our planet? Or are we so blinded and hardened that we can no longer appreciate the cries of humanity? Today, we need a correct mix of voices, ambition and action.”

Mottley drew attention to three gaps: (1) on mitigation, (2) on funding, and (3) on adaptation. Let me unpack. Mitigation refers to how cuts to ghg emissions will be achieved. For example, it could happen via an energy transition, a move to renewables, or a shift in the transportation industry.

But energy transitions take money. That’s where the funding from developed to developing nations comes in. And here, Mottley highlights a second gap. In 2009, developed nations agreed to pay $100 billion per year to developing nations, starting in 2020 and through 2025. That money has yet to be paid in full for 2020 and 2021. As Mottley said in her opening address, “We are $20 billion short of the $100 billion.”

Money, however, is not lacking. Mottley highlighted that major central banks have engaged in $25 trillion of quantitative easing in the past 13 years, including $9 trillion in the past 18 months to fight the pandemic. Some of those funds, she underscored, could have been allocated to finance the energy transition or a transition in transportation.

When funding does arrive, it is supposed to be split 50-50 between mitigation and adaptation, referring to measures taken to respond to the impacts of the climate crisis, such as managed retreat. But in actuality, as Mottley mentioned, only about 25 percent of the funds currently go to adaptation. Islands are, however, already really impacted by the effects of the climate crisis. That’s why they need the money now for adaptation.

As Kathy Jetnil-Kijiner put it in a recent interview: “For years, we have been focused on mitigation, on getting the rest of the nations to lower their emissions. But we’re now at a critical turning point, where it’s gotten more serious, and we’re looking inwards and are trying to protect ourselves first.”

At the press briefing yesterday morning, focused on “Partnerships for Island Resilience: Sharing Solutions in the Great Ocean States,” Jemii-Kijiner said, “The thing I was most concerned about coming into this COP[26] was increasing funds for adaptation specifically. For the Marshall Islands, we are looking at several billions of dollars for implementing our National Adaptation Plan for elevating land, for reclaiming land and for internal migration.” She refers to them as extreme adaptation measures.

The Republic of Marshall Islands rests less than two meters (six and a half feet) above sea level in the Pacific Ocean. The islands are completely flat and have no mountains. According to the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change, the Marshall Islands have contributed a mere .00005 percent to global CO2 emissions versus China’s 28 percent and the United States’ 15 percent.

At the press briefing, Simon Stiell, Minister of Climate Resilience of Grenada, added: “Mitigation is a marathon and adaptation is a sprint.” President Obama, who was also on the island resilience panel, repeated this sentence. It means that ghg emissions reductions will not happen overnight. But adaptation has to happen now, and for that, action on funding is needed.

At the COP26 President’s Informal Stocktaking meeting yesterday, the Alliance of Small Island States insisted on ambitious reduction targets with concrete implementation plans and for updating to be more systematic. AOSIS further called for the committed $100 billion to be paid. AOSIS also asked that adaptation financing be doubled immediately, so that it is on par with mitigation funding.

It remains unclear whether these demands will be met coming out of COP26, and specifically whether developing nations will pay all the promised adaptation funding. A draft of the final document leaked yesterday showed a placeholder for the “Global Goal on Adaptation.” One thing is sure: Islands will keep the pressure on. The motto of Pacific Islander climate activists is, “We are not drowning! We are fighting!”

Families of Missing Indigenous People Wonder Why Their Cases Go Unnoticed & Unsolved

Families of missing Indigenous people wonder why their cases go unnoticed and unsolved
Shondlin Silversmith | Arizona Republic

“All these people that are missing, they deserve to come home,” she said. “We cannot leave them out there.”

Indigenous families from across the U.S. know the hardships that come when a loved one suddenly goes missing or is murdered, especially when they’re seeking the support and resources needed to help move the cases forward.

Data surrounding Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women and Missing and Murdered Indigenous People is limited. The data that has been collected shows only a piece of the issue as many advocates and officials believe the numbers are likely greater than those reported.

As of August, 734 unresolved missing Indigenous people’s cases from 36 states have been published in NamUs, a national resource center for missing, unidentified, and unclaimed person cases across the United States.

The average age for a case among Indigenous people is 18 years, and Arizona has the third-highest number of cases at 55.

In 2020, there were 5,255 missing Indigenous people reported to the National Crime Information Center. By the year’s end, 1,496 were still missing.

In some tribal communities, Native American women face murder rates that are more than 10 times the national average, according to the Department of Justice.

Some 46% of all Native American women have experienced rape, physical violence, or stalking by an intimate partner, according to the Department of Justice, and one in three will, at some point in their life, experience the violence and trauma of rape.

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention reported in 2017 that homicide is the fourth-leading cause of death among Native American women between the ages of 1 and 19 years and the sixth-leading cause of death for ages 20 to 44.

'Want justice for her'
There is a personal story behind every statistic related to missing and murdered Indigenous people and hundreds of families across the nation who want some form of closure and justice.

On Sept. 19, Deiah Parker, 24, was found unresponsive in an apartment complex parking lot in Kingman. She later died due to head trauma. Her family believed it was foul play but struggled to get answers from local law enforcement agencies. The family is from Peach Springs and are citizens of the Hualapai tribe. They were in Kingman attending the Mohave County Fair.

Parker's mother, Deborah Saganisto, said she left her daughter that night with her friends and told them to take care of her. Those were the last words she spoke to her daughter.

Saganisto said when she asked for more information on her daughter's case, she was told by Kingman Police Department investigators that the case was first reported as an accident and potential overdose when Deiah was brought into Kingman Regional Medical Center.

That was shocking to Saganisto, who said her daughter didn't do drugs. Parker did drink alcohol, but Saganisto said when her daughter got pregnant, she stopped and stayed sober for about three years.

"I was kind of offended for them to say that they suspected her as a drug addict," Saganisto added. "I believe that the only reason why they said that is because we're Native American."

Saganisto found that it took the hospital two hours to resuscitate her daughter before they transferred her to a hospital in Las Vegas. "We stayed with her and did neurologist tests," during the hospital stay in Las Vegas, Saganisto said, but it was determined that her daughter was brain dead.

Saganisto said while they were at the hospital, they found out Parker had a fractured skull and was bleeding in the brain. The hospital reported it to the Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department, which initiated an investigation. Because the case originated in Mohave County, Las Vegas police transferred it back to Kingman police.

The family ultimately made the decision to take Parker off life support, Saganisto said. A funeral was held Oct. 3. Parker left behind a daughter. "I want justice for her and I want justice for her baby," Saganisto said.

On Oct. 6, Cedrick Watahomigie, 22 of Peach Springs, was arrested by the Kingman Police Department on a felony charge of manslaughter in connection with Parker's death, according to a report from Kingman police. He was the last person to be with Parker before she was found unresponsive.

The police report states that Watahomigie and Parker were involved in an argument, and during the argument, police say, Watahomigie pushed Parker. She stumbled and fell. Parker's injuries were consistent with falling and striking her head, the report says.

Watahomigie turned himself in and admitted involvement in the offense, the report states. He was booked into the Mohave County Adult Detention Facility. In another recent case, the family of 37-year-old Eva Joy Martinez has been searching daily for the San Carlos Apache woman, who went missing on Sept. 24. Reports say she was last seen between 8:30 and 9 p.m. at the Fort Thomas Cafe in Fort Thomas, northwest of Safford.

Her family has taken to social media for help on Martinez's case and to provide updates. The family asks anyone with information on the whereabouts of Martinez to report it to Sylvia Martinez or Karen Nelee at 928-200-6193.

Too little information
It's been nearly four months since Ella Mae Begay went missing from her home in Tótlítan (Sweetwater). Her family reported her disappearance to the Navajo Nation Police Department on June 15.

Begay is 5 feet, 1 inch tall, has a slender build with brown eyes, and weighs around 110 to 120 pounds. She was 62 when she was last seen.

Her 2005 Silver F-150 Ford truck, Arizona license plate AFE7101, was seen leaving her residence in the early morning hours of June 15. No one could say what she was wearing at the time.

Begay's family say they have done everything in their power to raise awareness about the case. They call the law enforcement agencies in charge of Begay's case almost daily asking for updates. They've held awareness walks, bike rallies and have repeatedly searched the surrounding areas for Begay.

Begay's niece, Seraphine Warren, has been at the forefront of the efforts on behalf of their family. "I want to get off this emotional roller coaster," Warren said. She has received a lot of support from MMIW organizations and other families going through the same thing.
She completed an awareness walk on Oct. 4 in honor of her aunt's birthday on Sept. 28. She walked from Sweetwater to Window Rock, where she ended her journey by talking about her aunt's case with tribal officials. "I'm going to keep walking until I get answers," Warren said.

Warren has kept the public updated about her aunt's case on Facebook, and she's voiced her disappointment in the way tribal and federal law enforcement agencies have handled it. The last real update she got came from the Navajo Nation criminal investigator assigned to them sometime in August.

The investigator told Warren that a person of interest in the case informed investigators that Begay was dropped off alive 15 miles southwest of the Immanuel Mission School in Teec Nos Pos. Warren said they searched the area near the school and found nothing.

The Arizona Republic reached out to the Navajo Nation Criminal Investigators Department multiple times but received no response. Warren said she is going to continue to shine a spotlight on her aunt's case until they find her.

Waiting for that phone call
In many MMIW and MMIP cases, it's often the families going out every day looking for answers and it's the families doing what they can to bring awareness to their loved one's case.

Jamie Lynnette Yazzie was last seen in Pinon two years ago, and it's been 19 years since the family of Laverda Sorrell reported her missing in Window Rock.

Yazzie reportedly called her family on June 30, 2019, the day of her disappearance, during a verbal altercation with her boyfriend. She has not been heard from since.

Her personal vehicle was found on July 5, 2019, abandoned less than a mile east from the Pinon Health Care Clinic, where she worked. Yazzie was 31 at the time of her disappearance. During an MMIW event in May, Yazzie's family talked about her case.

"The last phone call that we got from her was, 'Talk to you girls later. I'll call you in the morning or after I get off work,'" said Leona Yazzie, Jamie's older sister. "I'm still waiting for that phone call she said she was going to give me," Leona said.

Sorrell, from Navajo, New Mexico, was reported to be last seen by her husband. He told authorities that he dropped Sorrell off at 11:30 p.m. on July 4, 2002, at the Window Rock School District in Fort Defiance where she worked. During an MMIW event in Window Rock in May, Sorrell's brother, Charles Guy Jr., shared his sister's story and how her missing persons case has been frustrating and disappointing.

"We had a difficult and exhausting time convincing law enforcement that something horrible had happened," he said. Her family knew she would not abandon her children or family. "We are now on our third FBI investigator," Guy added. "It should not take 19 years to solve a homicide case that has a history of domestic violence." Sorrell was 44 when she went missing.

A promise of 'all hands on deck'
These stories come from only a handful of reported cases of Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women (MMIW) from Arizona, but hundreds of cases have been reported surrounding Missing and Murdered Indigenous People (MMIP) across the U.S.

Getting help on a local, state, tribal and federal level can be a challenge for most people. Only in the last few years have more governmental entities stepped up to raise awareness about MMIP.

In 2019, the U.S. Attorney General announced the agency's Missing and Murdered Indigenous Persons Initiative and the Presidential Task Force on Missing and Murdered American Indians and Alaska Natives, also known as Operation Lady Justice, was launched.

The Attorney General's office noted that "American Indian and Alaska Native people suffer from unacceptable and disproportionately high levels of violence, which can have lasting impacts on families and communities."

In March, Secretary of the Interior Deb Haaland launched the Missing and Murdered Unit within the Bureau of Indian Affairs Office of Justice Services, which will provide leadership and direction for cross-departmental and interagency work involving missing and murdered Indigenous people.

"Whether it's a missing family member or a homicide investigation, these efforts will be all hands on deck," Haaland said. "We are fully committed to assisting Tribal communities with these investigations, and the MMU will leverage every resource available to be a force multiplier in preventing these cases from becoming cold case investigations."

The Interior Department reported that 2,700 cases of murder and non-negligent homicide offenses have been reported to the Federal Government's Uniform Crime Reporting Program. Gila River Gov. Stephen Roe Lewis said he is gratified that more attention is coming from federal entities on the MMIP crisis impacting Indian Country. "In tribal communities, every day is MMIP day and we continue to work every day to overcome the barriers and challenges that leave our community members as part of the grim staistics of MMIP," he said. "Among the barriers we face when it comes to reporting and identifying missing and murdered tribal members are jurisdictional issues."

In an effort to break through those barriers, Lewis said the Gila River Indian Community teamed with the Department of the Interior Office of Tribal Justice to co-locate a Cold Case Office within the Gila River Police Department in 2020. "This cooperative arrangement not only helps federal officials have a ready presence here in the Phoenix region, but it offers our police department the ability to build capacity and investigative bandwidth around MMIP cases," Lewis said.
"This is the only cold case office in the country that is co-located within a tribal police department and the community looks forward to seeing the benefits of this program as it matures."

In Arizona, a legislative study committee on missing and murdered Indigenous women and girls was launched in 2019 in an effort to gather more information about the issue within the state. "There is a nationwide epidemic of missing and murdered Indigenous women and girls, and Arizona, with 22 federally recognized Tribes, is at the epicenter," Committee Chair Rep. Jennifer Jermaine, D-Chandler, said in the committee's final report in November 2020.

Arizona has the third-highest number of missing and murdered indigenous women and girls in the country, according to a 2017 study from the Urban Indian Health Institute.
The study recorded a total of 506 known cases in 71 urban cities across the country. Fifty-four cases were identified in Arizona, 31 of those in Tucson. As a result of the study committee, Jermaine said lawmakers have been able to pass a statewide missing children's statute after the committee found that different law enforcement jurisdictions were having different standards for reporting missing children.

HB2098 was signed by Gov. Doug Ducey on May 19 and now makes it mandatory for law enforcement agencies to report missing, kidnapped or runaway children. "Now we have we have a single statewide statute that says enforcement must immediately take a report from missing children," Jermaine said. "And within two hours, it needs to be sent out to all of the enforcement partners, both at the local and national level."

For the state of Arizona, NamUs reported 55 missing people as of August, and the study committee found that 160 murders of Indigenous females were recorded in Arizona from 1976 to 2018.

"Murders of indigenous women and girls have been steadily increasing over the past 40 years," the report states.
The study committee plans to continue its work.

POSITION OPENINGS

We are looking to fill two instructional assistant positions at the school. The first assistant position is for the 5th/6th grade classroom. The second position will work with our special education student population to provide additional interventions to assist in their academic growth.

Both positions require a high school diploma or equivalent, as well as an Associate's degree or the ability to pass the paraprofessional exam. Preference will be given to applicants who possess or who are able to obtain bus driver certification. Higher wages are paid for bus driving.

The employment application can be found online on our website, valentineaz.net or a paper copy can be picked up at the school.

FIRE DISTRICT BOUNDARY DECISION

The Mohave County Board of Supervisors voted last week to deny the request of the Northern Arizona Fire District to separate the Valle Vista, Hackberry, and Truxton areas into its own fire district.

AWARDS ASSEMBLY

Our first quarter awards assembly will be held on Wednesday, November 3, 2021, beginning at 9am. Families will be notified on Tuesday, November 2, if their student is receiving an award.

THE APP IS COMING, THE APP IS COMING

Our school's smart phone app is scheduled to launch this week! It will be available from both the Google Play Store and the Apple App Store. This will be an additional way that families can keep up to date with events and announcements at the school.

AZ TAX CREDIT

Valentine Elementary can accept donations in any amount. The dollar-for-dollar credit can be taken on an Arizona tax return up to certain limits.

How Can I Help My Student?

- Talk about social media – Technology is advancing continuously. Nearly every few weeks, some new app or platform is launched. How can the adults keep up? Have your students teach you! Don't be afraid to ask your students for help as you navigate this ever-changing environment. They will probably appreciate the opportunity to be “the teacher”. While those conversations are going on, ask what programs they use, what they post on-line, how they are sure that people they are communicating with really are who and what they say they are.

- Check out the IMDb website – There is a free resource online that will provide a tremendous amount of information regarding movies and television shows. The site (imdb.com) can give you an opportunity to learn more about the shows that students are watching, including the latest trailers on many upcoming or recent shows. One of the more recent shows that has had an effect on students and their behavior is the Netflix original series, Squid Game.

- Learn about parental controls – Many media companies have available parental control settings where you can filter out content that may be inappropriate for your student. Although not always 100% foolproof, these settings can go a long way toward protecting your students from content you may not want them exposed to at their age.

Dental Fluoride Varnishing

Dental Fluoride varnishing is one of the best ways to prevent tooth decay. Varnish (Cavity Shield) is a topical application that hardens upon contact with saliva therefore is safe to use on younger children. Varnish helps stop tooth decay in its early stages. It can be applied to teeth up to 4X a year to help slow down the cavity causing bacteria.

The application is painless and does not require numbing or drilling in the mouth. Minor risks include: gagging, or a funny taste when applied.

Parker Dental Hygienist, Nida Lerch RDH. BS Will provide dental screening and apply fluoride varnish for Children ages 0-15 every third Friday of the month in Peach Springs Clinic. Please call the clinic for an appointment, Limited walk-ins are available.

UNDERSTANDING COVID-19

A novel coronavirus has caused an outbreak of respiratory illness that the World Health Organization named COVID-19 in February 2020. The disease has led to millions of cases around the world.

COVID-19 is spread by CLOSE PERSON-TO-PERSON CONTACT through respiratory droplets from speaking, coughing or sneezing.

SYMPTOMS MAY APPEAR 2 TO 14 DAYS AFTER EXPOSURE TO THE VIRUS THAT CAUSES COVID-19. A person does not have to have symptoms to spread the virus.

COVID-19 CAN ONLY BE DIAGNOSED with a laboratory test.

SYMPTOMS OF COVID-19 INCLUDE

- Headache
- Cough
- Sore throat
- Fever or chills
- Shortness of breath or difficulty breathing
- New loss of taste or smell
- Diarrhea
- Muscle or body aches

In rare cases, it can lead to severe respiratory problems, kidney failure or death.

THE BEST WAY TO PROTECT YOURSELF

- Hand-washing: Frequently wash your hands with soap and water or use a hand sanitizer with at least 60% alcohol.
- Wear a cloth face mask when in public to help prevent the spread of the virus.
- Cough or sneeze into a tissue or bent elbow. Throw the tissue in the trash.
- Physical distancing: Stay 6 feet away from others.
- If you feel sick: Stay home and call your health care provider.
- Do not touch your face without washing your hands first.
- Clean and disinfect frequently touched objects and surfaces.

WHEN TO SEEK MEDICAL ATTENTION

- Call 911 if you have an emergency.
- If you feel sick, stay home and call your medical provider.
- Call your health care provider if you have been near someone with COVID-19.

COVID-19 Vaccines for Children 5-11: What Parents Need to Know

Children ages 5 and up can now receive a COVID-19 vaccine after approval from doctors and scientists at the FDA and CDC. This vaccine is safe and highly effective against COVID-19 disease in children.

The Delta variant has put children at increased risk for severe symptoms and hospitalization. Children who get the vaccine will receive strong protection against COVID-19 disease caused by all known variants of the virus. Vaccinated children will also be less likely to spread the virus to others, helping keep our families and communities safe from COVID-19.

Will children receive the same vaccine as adults?

Yes, but in a smaller dose. The vaccine for children is the same Pfizer vaccine that has been given to billions of people around the world since December 2020. Children will receive a smaller dose that is one-third the size of the adult dose.

The Pfizer vaccine uses messenger RNA (mRNA) to create antibodies that can fight off the COVID-19 virus. The vaccine does not change a person’s DNA and cannot give a person COVID-19.

Is the vaccine safe?

The COVID-19 vaccine is safe and effective for children. No safety issues related to the vaccine were reported during the research trial for children ages 5-11.

A small number of people have had myocarditis - a very rare, treatable heart condition - after vaccination. The risk of myocarditis in children is extremely low. Among vaccinated 12-17 year-olds, the risk was less than 1 in 10,000. Children are more likely to have myocarditis after getting sick with COVID-19 than after vaccination.

Children should not get the vaccine if they have a history of severe allergic reaction to any of the vaccine's ingredients.

What are the side effects?

Children ages 5-11 had side effects similar to those experienced by people age 12 and older. The most common side effects included:

- Pain, redness, and swelling where the shot was given
- Tiredness
- Headache
- Chills
- Muscle pain
- Fever

These side effects typically last 1 to 3 days. In the trial, children experienced less severe side effects compared to adults.

Should my child get the shot?

The benefits of vaccination, like preventing COVID-19 and its possibly severe complications, greatly outweigh the potential risks of a rare negative reaction, including myocarditis.

Though children are less likely to experience severe COVID-19 illness, the Delta variant has been causing more cases in children, including more hospitalizations. COVID-19 hospitalization rates for Native American children are three times higher than for white children.

Children 5 and older are recommended to get the COVID-19 vaccine to protect them from the virus and to help keep our communities safe.

Health concerns can happen at any time, our 24-hour nurse advice line is always available to provide help right over the phone. This service is available to all IHS patients at any of our CRSU locations.

Is the vaccine safe?

YES

The COVID-19 vaccine is safe and effective for children. No safety issues related to the vaccine were reported during the research trial.

How effective is the vaccine in children?

Highly effective.

The vaccine prevents 9 in 10 infections in children 5–11, and it is 100% effective in preventing hospitalizations.
Will children get the same vaccine as adults?

Yes, but a smaller dose.

Children will get the same Pfizer vaccine that has been in use for 11 months. Children will get a smaller dose that is 1/3 the size of the adult dose.

Should my child get the vaccine?

The benefits of vaccination far outweigh the potential risks of a rare negative reaction, like myocarditis. Children 5 and up are recommended to get the vaccine to protect them from the virus and keep our communities safe.

What are the side effects?

Children studied in the research trial had side effects similar to adults. The most common side effects included:

- Tiredness
- Headache
- Pain at injection site
- Chills
- Muscle pain
- Fever

If side effects do occur, they will typically last 1 to 3 days.

Should I be worried about myocarditis?

No, it is very rare.

The risk of myocarditis, a treatable heart condition, is extremely low in children. Among vaccinated 12–17 year-olds, the risk was less than 1 in 10,000.

IN REMEMBRANCE OF SEYMOUR SMITH

The Family of SEYMOUR SMITH would like to THANK everyone that were there for us in our time of sorrow, in the loss of our Loved One, SEYMOUR SMITH. We will miss him very, very much but he would want us to go on with our lives. He will never be forgotten. We will always remember all your kind words of sympathy & flowers. A very, very SPECIAL THANK YOU to Wayne Whatoname, Jr. and his wife Sharon who helped us, we can never Thank you enough. For there are no words that can really express how we feel. Without you we would have never gotten through this, but we did Thanks to you. For all those who brought food and the departments, the Hualapai Lodge and the Juvenile Detention who cooked the delicious food for us, we can never Thank you enough either. Those that sang and danced we appreciate it very much, you could have been anywhere or maybe had things to do but you were there for us THANK YOU. Like we said all that you have done for us, we will never forget. We love you all and may God bless each and every one of you.

God is saying... to you... REST.
I am already at work, I will turn around every bad situations in your life. Bless you and your family and heal every place you are hurting!!
Amen!

When you are sad or upset, always remember these points.
Pain is part of growing. Everything in life is temporary. Worrying and complaining changes nothing. Your scars are symbols of your strength. Every little struggle is a step forward. Other peoples negativity is not your problem. What is meant to be will eventually BE. The best thing you can do is to KEEP going!!!

There’s nothing stronger
Nothing higher
Nothing greater
Than the name of JESUS! Amen!
Have a safe weekend!
HUALAPAI HERITAGE: BRONCO ANNIE BY CHERYL BEECHER

When the tribe got back their land, my Great Grandfather (Young Beecher) began running his cattle on Tribal land. He had been given cattle by the rancher he worked for. By then he had a lot of cattle. The Bureau of Indian Affairs came in. They would oversee the activity of the native land. Great Grandfather called the BIA ‘Boss Indian Around’ and that is exactly what they did. One time they told Young he had too many cattle and that he was over grazing the land. They said, “You need to bring them in” So he brought his cattle into the corral on the XI ranch, Hualapai Reservation. They then informed him that they were going to shoot them, and they began shooting the cattle. (Cheryl then became emotional.) There was nothing they could do. My Great Grandfather’s wife, Bronco....Bronco Annie (Her maiden name was Fielding.) jumped into the corral among the cattle. Annie then exclaimed, “If you shoot the cattle, you shoot me. I go down with my cows. Do it, shoot me with all my cows”. They stopped. That is what happened. My family has always been into ranching. Even my two high school age grandsons are involved she said, “They are little men.”

Constitutional Rights

Constitutional Rights

I am writing this concern that I have had for a long time. This is concerning the rights of our people, that has been violated continuously, yet no one seems to care about what our people are going through during these hard times.

No. 1 violation is coming from Hualapai Tribal Prosecutors. Harsh punishment is constantly inflicted upon inmates. Amendment 8: To the United States Constitution states: excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel and unusual punishments inflicted.

Also be advised, the Proposed Constitution 2021, Amendments of the Hualapai Tribe: Article II: Bill of Rights under (h) states, the Tribe, in exercising its powers of self-government shall not require excessive bail, impose excessive fines, or inflict cruel and unusual punishment.

I strongly feel that the Hualapai Tribal Prosecutors must stop the cruel and unusual punishments, we do not have thousands of dollars to shuffle around. Some of us are barely surviving, our reservation is not a rich town.

No. 2 concern is about how Hualapai Tribal Social Services not abiding by the Hualapai Law and Order Code, continues to abuse authority. If an incident occurs concerning a child whether it be the child is disobedient to the parent or if the child decides he’s old enough to abuse alcohol and drugs, when he’s only 10 or 11 years old. Well, who’s in charge, the parents or the child?? Well, under Section 13: in the Hualapai Law and Order Code, if Social Services is called upon they must strictly follow the book, but after observing Social Services for years this is not done. I have had my grandchildren placed under my care for years, yet no one from Social Services, or the Juvenile Prosecutor Office, has stopped by to check on the children or to see how they’re doing in school.

Yet, they are quick to punish the parent or parents. They would rather go based on hearsay, assumptions, and beliefs, but those beliefs and hearsay are not true facts. This is where they are in the wrong, if they cannot do their job professionally. They must be replaced with others who will do the job right.

This also applies to the police officers who are new here. For they tend to believe the wrong person and file false information (charges) on an individual, along with the Prosecutor. Again, going based on hearsay and assumptions and beliefs. This is very wrong, especially when a parent has been hurt (physically) by a teen.

In closing, I want to inform you all that you as an individuals have rights. Use it and familiarize yourself with it. Do not allow anyone to have control of your life. You are your own boss. Thank you for reading.

What Love Is (1 of 6)*
Love is the center and circumference; the cause and aim of all things. ‘Tis the key to joy and sorrow, and the recompense for all the ills that have been, or may be.

Love is as bitter as the dregs of sin, as sweet as clover-honey in its cell; Love is the password whereby souls get into Heaven, the gate that leads, sometimes to hell.

Love is the crown that glorifies; the curse that brands and burdens; it is life and death, it is the great law of the universe; and nothing can exist without its breath.

Love is the impulse which directs the world, and all things know it and obey its power. Man, in the maelstrom of his passions whirled; the bee that takes the pollen to the flower.

The earth, uplifting her bare, pulsing breast to fervent kisses of the amorous sun; each but obeys creative loves behest, which everywhere instinctively is done.

Love is the only thing that pays for birth, or makes death welcome, oh dear God above this beautiful but sad, perplexing Earth, pity the hearts that know—or know not-love!

There Comes A Time (2 of 6)*
There comes a time to every mortal being whatever the station or his lot in life, when his sad soul yearns for the final freeing from all this jarring and unceasing strife. There comes a time, when, having lost its savor, the salt of wealth is worthless; when the mind grows wearied with the worlds capricious favor and sighs for something that it cannot find.

There comes a time, when, though kind friends are thronging about our pathway with sweet acts of grace, we feel a vast and overwhelming longing for something that we cannot name or place.

There comes a time, when, with earth’s best love by us, to feed the hearts great hunger and desire, we find not even this can satisfy us; the soul within us cries for something higher.

What greater proof need we that we inherit a life immortal in another sphere? It is the homesick longing of the spirit that cannot find its satisfaction here.

Three and One (3 of 6)*
Sometimes she seems so helpless and so mild. So full of sweet unreason and so weak; so prone to some capricious whim or freak; now gay, now tearful, and now anger wild, by her strange moods of waywardness beguiled and entertained. I strode her pretty cheek, and soothing words of peace and comfort speak; and love her as a father loves a child.

Sometimes when I am troubled and sore pressed on every side by fast advancing care, she rises up with such majestic air, I deem her some Olympian goddess—guess, who brings my heart new courage, hope and rest; in her brave eyes dwells balm for my despair and then I seem, while fondly gazing there, a loving child up my mother’s chest.

Again, when her warm veins are full of life, and youth’s volcanic tidal wave of fire sends the swift mercury of her pulses higher, her beauty stirs my heart to maddening strife, and all the tiger in my blood is rife. I love her with a lover’s fierce desire and find in her my dream, complete, entire, child, mother, mistress all in one word—wife.

Incompatibilities (4 of 6)
If you loved me, I could trust you to your fancy’s furthest bound. While the sun shone and the wind blew and the world went round. To the utmost of the meshes of the devils strongest net... if you loved me, if you loved me—but you do not love me yet!

I love you and I cannot trust you further then the door but the winds and worlds and seasons change, and you will love me more and more—until I trust you, dear, as women do trust men. I shall trust you, I shall trust you but I shall not love you then!

Sleep and Death (5 of 6)*
When sleep drops down beside my love and me, although she wears the countenance of a friend, a jealous foe we prove her in the end.

In separate barques far out on dream lands sea, she lures our wedded souls. Wild winds blow free and drift us wide apart by tides that tend toward unknown worlds. Not once our strange ways blend through the long night, while sleep looks on in glee.

O Death! Be kinder than thy sister seems, when at thy call we journey forth some day, through that mysterious and unAtlased straight, to lands more distant than the land of dreams, close, close together let our spirits stay or else, with one swift stroke annihilate!

A Parting (6 of 6)
So good-bye! This is where we end it, you and I. Life is to live, you know, and deaths to die; so good-bye!

I was yours for the love in life that loves, while life endures for the Earth-
Path that the heaven-flight ensures, I was yours.

You were mine, for the moment that a garland takes to twine, for the human hour the sorcery shews divine you were mine.

All is over. You and I no more are love and lover; noughts to seek now, gain, attain, discover

All is over!

I am writing to communicate and sharing my wisdom of lost loved ones. As you know I am incarcerated at the moment and I’m looking loved ones also. I would like to share a set of pieces from Ella Wheeler Wilcox (*) and I do hope it is an inspiration with heartfelt love and sorrow with a drift of calamity. I hope you love my thoughts, take care and stay blessed. “Never Give Up”.

Welcome all!

Hello, my name is Joseph Salazar, I have created and developed Roadside Help here in Peach Springs, AZ. Roadside Help is a sole proprietorship that is insured, licensed in Mohave County, and educated as an Advanced automotive technician. I grew up in the town of Peach Springs, and know all too well about the lack of resources here especially for automotive repairs.

I set out to establish an automotive repair resource in Peach Springs due to the lack of resources for our locals here in town. Everyone is typically left no choice but to drive their vehicle 45 miles to the resources we need to have vehicles serviced, repaired, and preventative maintenance performed. I spent years learning, and obtaining information on how to go about even opening up a automotive repair service here. I own all my own tools, and have reliable transportation to meet your needs upon request. It is my joy to announce Roadside Help is officially up and running!

Roadside Help offers all mobile repair services primarily in Peach Springs, but includes all surrounding areas within Mohave County. Contract work, POs, personal hire I am available for all needs whether you are a department here in Peach Springs, or a local needing some service work.
