- Update your registration whenever you move so that your information will be correct in the Signature Roster.

ID PROVISIONS FOR AMERICAN INDIANS
Tribal IDs are an acceptable form of ID to vote at the polls. Depending on the type of tribal ID, another form of ID may be needed. Check with your Tribe or tribal subdivision to see if other forms of ID, other than your tribal enrollment ID, are acceptable to use when voting at the polls. Parenting is hard. Help is a phone call away with the Birth to Five Helpline™
Call 877-705-KIDS (5437), Monday – Friday, 8 a.m. – 8 p.m. for free child development support.

After two decades working with families of young children, Alison Steier offers this advice to all new parents: know that parenting is hard and you don’t have to do it alone. Steier leads the Birth to Five Helpline, a free service open to all Arizona families of young children birth to age 5. Early childhood experts are available by phone — Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. — to answer any parenting questions, from basic health and nutrition to how to handle challenging behaviors and more. The Birth to Five Helpline is a program of Southwest Human Development and is partially funded by First Things First.

A thoughtful plan for your family
The Helpline’s bilingual (English/ Spanish) specialists take as much time on the phone as parents need. They are experts on babies and young children, and they also know a lot about parents. Steier said, “The approach is to walk side-by-side with the parents. We’re not there to judge or criticize.” The goal is to avoid giving generic advice. The specialist and the parent come up with a thoughtful plan, and there can be follow-up conversations to make adjustments needed to be successful.

Topics addressed but are not limited to:
- Sleep
- Challenging Behaviors
- Potty Training/Learning
- Health and Nutrition
- Feeding and Eating
- Fussiness/Colic
- Safety
- General Child Development
- Parenting

Options for contacting the Helpline:

Monkeypox is a disease caused by a virus (monkeypox virus) not commonly seen in the United States. Monkeypox can cause a rash which may look like pimples or blisters, sometimes with a flu-like illness. While CDC works to contain the current outbreak and learn more about the virus, it is important that you to have information so you can make informed choices when you are in spaces or situations where monkeypox could be spread. As new information becomes available, CDC will continue to update the CDC monkeypox website to help keep you informed.

How is monkeypox spread?

Monkeypox can spread to anyone through close, personal, often skin-to-skin contact including:

- Direct contact with monkeypox rash, scabs, or body fluids from a person with monkeypox. We believe this is currently the most common way that monkeypox is spreading in the U.S.
- Touching objects, fabrics (clothing, bedding, or towels), and surfaces that have been used by someone with monkeypox.
- Contact with respiratory secretions.

This contact can happen during intimate contact including:

- Oral, anal, and vaginal sex or touching the genitals (penis, testicles, labia, and vagina) or anus (butthole) of a person with monkeypox.
- Hugging, massage, and kissing.
- Prolonged face-to-face contact.
- Touching fabrics and objects during sex that were used by a person with monkeypox and that have not been disinfected, such as bedding, towels, fetish gear, and sex toys.

What are the symptoms of monkeypox?

- You may experience all or only a few of the symptoms of monkeypox.
- Most people with monkeypox will get a rash.
- Some people have developed a rash before (or without) flu-like symptoms.
- Monkeypox symptoms usually start within 3 weeks of exposure to the virus.
  - The flu-like symptoms may include fever, headache, muscle aches and backache, sore throat, cough, swollen lymph nodes, chills, or exhaustion.
  - If someone has flu-like symptoms, they will usually develop a rash 1-4 days later.
- The rash may be located on or near the genitals or anus but could also be on other areas like the hands, feet, chest, or face.
  - The rash will go through several stages, including scabs, before healing.
  - The rash can look like pimples or blisters and may be painful or itchy.
  - The rash may also be inside the body, including the mouth, vagina, or anus.

Monkeypox can be spread from the time symptoms start until the rash has healed, all scabs have fallen off, and a fresh layer of skin has formed. This can take several weeks.

What are researchers investigating?

- If the virus can be spread when someone has no symptoms
- If the virus could be present in semen (cum), vaginal fluids, and fecal matter (poop)
- How effective the current smallpox vaccines are for the prevention of monkeypox illness
How can a person lower the chance of getting monkeypox at places like raves, parties, clubs, and festivals?

When thinking about what to do, seek out information from trusted sources like the local health department. Second, consider how much close, personal, skin-to-skin contact is likely to occur at the event you plan to attend. If you feel sick or have a rash, do not attend any gathering, and see a healthcare provider.

- Festivals, events, and concerts where attendees are fully clothed and unlikely to share skin-to-skin contact are safer. However, attendees should be mindful of activities (like kissing) that might spread monkeypox.
- A rave, party, or club where there is minimal clothing and where there is direct, personal, often skin-to-skin contact has some risk. Avoid any rash you see on others and consider minimizing skin-to-skin contact.
- Enclosed spaces, such as back rooms, saunas, sex clubs, or private and public sex parties where intimate, often anonymous sexual contact with multiple partners occurs, may have a higher likelihood of spreading monkeypox.

How can a person lower their risk during sex?

Talk to your partner about any recent illness and be aware of new or unexplained rash on your body or your partner’s body, including the genitals and anus. If you or your partner have recently been sick, currently feel sick, or have a new or unexplained rash, do not have sex and see a healthcare provider.

If you or a partner has monkeypox, the best way to protect yourself and others is to avoid sex of any kind (oral, anal, vaginal) and do not kiss or touch each other’s bodies while you are sick, especially any rash. Do not share things like towels, fetish gear, sex toys, and toothbrushes.

If you or your partner have (or think you might have) monkeypox and you decide to have sex, consider the following to reduce the chance of spreading the virus:

- Have virtual sex with no in-person contact.
- Masturbate together at a distance of at least 6 feet, without touching each other and without touching any rash.
- Consider having sex with your clothes on or covering areas where rash is present, reducing as much skin-to-skin contact as possible. If the rash is confined to the genitals or anus, condoms may help; however, condoms alone are likely not enough to prevent monkeypox.
- Avoid kissing.
- Remember to wash your hands, fetish gear, sex toys and any fabrics (bedding, towels, clothing) after having sex.
- Having multiple or anonymous sex partners may increase your chances of exposure to monkeypox. Limiting your number of sex partners may reduce the possibility of exposure.
- Avoid touching the rash. Touching the rash can spread it to other parts of the body and may delay healing.

What should a person do if they have a new or unexplained rash or other symptoms?

- Avoid sex or being intimate with anyone until you have been checked out by a healthcare provider.
- If you don’t have a provider or health insurance, visit a public health clinic near you.
- When you see a healthcare provider, wear a mask, and remind them that this virus is circulating in the area.
- Avoid gatherings, especially if they involve close, personal, skin-to-skin contact.
- Think about the people you have had close, personal, or sexual contact during the last 21 days, including people you met through dating apps. To help stop the spread, you might be asked to share this information if you have received a monkeypox diagnosis.

Don't Let the Bed Bugs Bite

Identifying Bed Bugs
Accurately identifying bed bugs is critical before treatment. There are many bugs that look like bed bugs.

ADULT BED BUGS
- Size of a sunflower seed
- Long, brown, flat, oval body (if not fed recently)
- Balloon-like, red/brown, more elongated body (if fed recently)

!Life Cycle of a Bed Bug

Signs of Bed Bugs
There are many different signs of bed bugs to be aware of.

SIGNS OF BED BUGS
- Stains on mattress with a rust or reddish color (caused by bed bugs being crushed)
- Dark spots on mattress – often look like pepper flakes (these are bed bug droppings)
- Pale/yellow eggs and eggshells (about 1mm)
- Bed bug bites that appear in a line or grouped together (usually on areas not covered by clothing)
- Live bed bugs

PLACES WHERE BED BUGS HIDE
- When bed bugs aren't feeding, they can be found hiding in a variety of places such as:
  - Around the bed
  - Near the piping or in the seams of the mattress
  - In the tags of the mattress or box spring
  - In cracks in the bedframe or headboard
  - In the seams of couches and chairs as well as in between cushions
  - In the folds of curtains
  - In drawer joints or electrical outlets
  - In/on items hanging on the walls
  - In luggage
  - On wicker furniture

TIP
Bed bugs can hide in cracks and crevices the width of a credit card!

Prevention
Focusing on preventing bed bugs is very beneficial.

PREVENTION TIPS
- Check all furniture that you purchase secondhand, like flea markets or yard sales, before bringing it home
- Make sure you have protective covers on your box springs and mattresses
- Keep the clutter in your home to a minimum
- Vacuum regularly and frequently
- Wash your bed sheets and blankets once per week
- Never pick up old mattresses
- When traveling, check the inseams of the bed before you unpack and lay down
- Use bed bugs traps

IF NECESSARY, CONTACT A PROFESSIONAL AND CERTIFIED PEST CONTROL APPLICATOR

Treatment
Treatment of bed bugs can take weeks to months.

BED BUG TREATMENT OPTIONS
- Before grabbing the spray can, try non-chemical treatment options such as:
  - Heat treatment – use a dryer on high heat, place your belongings in black plastic bags in a car under the sun, or refer to your Tribal government for prevention and treatment options
  - Steam treatment – the steam temperature must be at least 130°F but should not be forceful air or bed bugs might scatter. Steam can be used to treat carpets, baseboards, bed frames, and other furniture

Coming to Indian Country: 988 and the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline

Why do we need 988?
Suicide is the second leading cause of death for Native youth ages 10-24. Native communities experience the highest rates of suicide amongst all racial and ethnic groups in the Unites States, and suicide rates among American Indian and Alaska Native communities rose by 118% between 1999 and 2017.

Suicide is preventable. 988 is one step in the direction of saving lives. This early intervention can reduce the burden on 911 and hospital services. 988 will move mental health and substance use services out of the shadows and into the mainstream; it will send a message that healing and getting help are normal and important parts of life.

What is 988?
988 is a direct three-digit line to trained National Suicide Prevention Lifeline crisis counselors that will go live July 16, 2022. With an easy to remember 3-digit number, the Lifeline hopes to reach many more people in emotional crisis. This service is provided free of charge to the caller. Any person of any age can call or text 988; services will be available 24/7, year round. They will include a text option, translation services for non-English speakers, accessible options for people who are deaf or hard of hearing, and services for minors.

When you’ve got a police, fire, or rescue emergency, you call 911. When you have a mental health emergency, you call/text 988.

How will this affect my community?
The impact of 988 will vary from community to community. If your community has reliable phone and 911 services, it will now have access to 988 24/7. Community members will be able to receive confidential services during mental health emergencies with minimal involvement of police or hospitals. If you live in an area where connecting to 911 services is difficult, you may experience the same with 988. Please know that chatting via the suicidepreventionlifeline.org website, texting NATIVE to the Crisis Text Line at 741741, or texting 988 when available may be the best ways to connect in these communities.

GAMYU
Lifeline Crisis Centers are Local and Effective

The National Suicide Prevention Lifeline provides free, 24/7 confidential emotional support to people in suicidal crisis or emotional distress in the United States. The Lifeline is effective in reducing suicidal and emotional distress.

- The Lifeline has served over 10 million people since its inception
- Call centers in the Lifeline divert hundreds of thousands of calls from 911 every year
- Independent evaluations demonstrate that Lifeline centers are effective in reducing emotional distress and suicidality

The Lifeline is a network of over 180 local crisis call centers. Crisis centers are connected to local community resources including community mental health, hospitals, social services, and first responders. The Lifeline’s crisis call centers provide the specialized care of a local community with the support of a national network.

There are no Lifeline tribal crisis call centers—yet! Tribes may partner with regional non-profits to provide coverage to tribal communities as well as open tribal crisis lines in their community. To learn more about the capacities needed to open a crisis call center, review the SAMHSA National Guidelines for Behavioral Health Crisis Care.

What happens when you call (or text) 988?

You will be connected with a trained crisis worker from a local crisis center. Wait times are anticipated to be under one minute. The caller can talk about any emotional crisis, not just suicide. The crisis worker will use active listening to assess risk, determine if a person is in danger, and assist the person in feeling better and accessing resources. If the crisis worker believes the caller is in danger, they will work with the caller to create a safety plan that does not require calling emergency services. Less than 3% of calls result in dispatching 911 services.

If you are calling about a friend or family member who is in distress, the person on the phone will walk you through how to help and provide resources.

How will this change be resourced and promoted?

With the passage of the National Suicide Hotline Designation Act, the federal government has set aside a 5% Mental Health Block Grant for crisis services and a single time Mental Health Block Grant of $1.5 Billion. States can also exercise their authority to implement a 988 fee, similar to the current 911 fee. In 2018, 911 fees generated $2.6 Billion. Tribes can contact the SAMHSA Office of Tribal Affairs and Policy to discuss possible funding to support 988 in their region, or reach out to the state closest to them to discuss funding partnerships.

In addition to federal efforts, non-profit agencies all over the nation will be disseminating information about 988. For tribal promotional materials or consultation in Washington, Oregon, or Idaho, contact the Northwest Portland Area Indian Health Board’s THRIVE Suicide Prevention Project Coordinator at mmore@npaihb.org.

How can tribal communities partner with 988?

Tribes and Tribal communities can:

- Contact their state’s 988 Implementation Coalition to get involved in the rollout of 988.
- Partner with local crisis service centers to provide culturally appropriate services. To get connected or learn more about your local crisis service center, visit the Lifeline’s Network webpage.
- Establish tribally specific crisis service centers to become part of the Lifeline network.
- Develop culturally aware mobile crisis response teams for tribal communities.

Domestic Violence Stories

Our program strongly believes that “sharing is healing”. October is National Domestic Violence recognition month. We are looking for stories from people who have been victims and have survived this tragic lifestyle. Stories are being collected. The book will be shared with clients who are in need of inspiration and more importantly to know he/she/transgender persons are not alone.

We ask no names be mentioned, no location or dates. Only the experience you had encountered. All stories are to be submitted anonymously. IF you choose to share your story publically, please contact us. We will be having a talking circle also in the month of October. Stories can be turned into the Hualapai Prosecutor’s office. There will be a box in the lobby for submission.

Stories are being collected from now until Friday, October 7th – Please help heal one another and thank you.
